The Mercer County Fair—A Success—A Large Crowd in Attendance—The Entries.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

STONEBORO, PA., Sept., 15, 1869.

The Mercer County Agricultural Society Fair, which was opened on Tuesday, has been largely patronized and successful beyond anticipation. The number of entries in mechanical, industrial, agricultural and domestic articles is very large and creditable, while the art departments and cattle pens make unusually fine exhibitions. Not less than five thousand persons were in attendance yesterday, and to-day nearly as many were present. The Franklin branch of the Lake Shore railroad is running excursion trains, and doing a very large business. There are two calves entered, wieghing in the aggregate, eight thousand pounds. Mr. Shippen, of Mercer, has entered three French horses, which, from their mammoth proportions, attract a large share of attention. The Lake House is crowded to its fullest capacity, about five hundred persons being quartered under its homelike and hospitable roof. So far the very best of order has marked the fair, and the greatest satisfaction prevails all around.

WOMEN IN COUNCIL.

Convention in Cincinnati—Woman Having Freed the Slave will Now Free Herself—Speeches by Mrs. Langley, Miss Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Levermore, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Blangy, Mrs. De Chase, and Others.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, September 15.—The Woman's Suffrage Convention met at Pike's Hall at twelve o'clock to-day.

On the platform were Mrs. Mary A. Levermore, of Chicago, Miss Susan B. Anthony, of New York, Mrs. Lucy Stone and husband, Mr. Henry B. Blackwell, of Boston, Mrs. De Chase, of Cleveland, Mrs. M. Currier Brown, and others.

Mrs. M. M. Cole, of Sidney, Miss Boynton, of Clawfordsville, Ind., Messrs. A. J. Boyer and J. J. Bellville, of Dayton, Dr. Organ, of Champaign county, Ohio, and others, are expected.

On motion of Mrs. Mary Graham, Mrs. M. V. Lougley, of Linwood, was called to preside as temporary chairman, and Mrs. Blangy, of this city, and Mrs. M. Cold, of Sidney, as temporary Secretaries.

Rev. H. D. Moore, of the First Congregational church, was called to open the Convention with prayer, which he did.

Mrs. Lougley, on taking the chair, expressed her thanks for the honor conferred, but hesitated to accept the duties imposed, in view of her inexperience in such a capacity. She then said:

It may be proper to say a few words explaining the object for which you met and the work to be done, although prior to the late war, much was said and written on the political inequality of woman with man, it was not until after the abolition of slavery in the United States, that any great or practical advance could be made toward woman suffrage. It could be but so according to the law of progress, for until people's moral vision was sufficiently developed to see greater wrong they could not comprehend less. Some women who now advocate woman suffrage devoted themselves to the liberation of the slave as long as the necessity existed, As all has been done by them that women can do, because all has been done except what had to be done through the ballot-box, it is proper that she should now work for the elevation of her own sex. As all minor interests were set aside, and all energies concentrated on one great object: liberation of the slave, so now that there is nothing more for women to do for them, they have determined to unite in one great effort for woman suffrage. Having been taught by the experience of the New York Convention that one thing well done was better than many attempted, the friends of the cause in the west determined to waive all side interests and agreed to confine themselves to that which underlies all political rights—the right to the ballot. We have met, then, to form an Ohio Woman Suffrage Association, the object of which shall be to send documents and speakers through the country, to facilitate the formation of societies in every neighborhood, and by all proper means to advance the cause of woman suffrage and thereby make our government in fact what it is in theory, a Government of the people. For the purpose of securing harmonious and effective work in our Convention some have made such sacrifices of personal interests in other reforms as only those can make who are devoted to the greatest good of all. Nothing but a conviction that the good of the cause demanded such sacrifices could have induced them to consent to exclude from our deliberation other measures long endeared to them, such, for instance, as the temperance reform. I hope the knowledge that such self-denial has been practised by many who are actively engaged with us will be appreciated by you, and cause you to be equally unselfish and cautious in any resolution you may offer and any action you take during our session.

While the Chair took time to consult about the composition of the committee, Miss Susan B. Anthony made a few remarks. She was greeted with cheers, and said: "I am alwas ready to fill up any such gaps in business as the present, although I have rushed here from the cars after being delayed by broken engines and delayed trains. It has not been so bad, however, as when I was here last, with that other eccentric Train, when we had to charter a special train in order to meet our appointment. This is a great work in which you are assembled, to organize for work as well as for talk. First comes talk, then in due time will come action and revolution. After twenty years of earnest work in this cause, of course I am greatly encouraged and rejoiced at such evidences of progress as I see before me to-day. She concluded by saying it was their custom in the east at such meetings to invite discussions from any who had doubts on the question, or who openly opposed the suffrage proposition, and she hoped the same course would be pursued here, for she could always speak better under the pressure of opposition.

Mrs. Mary a Livermore was next introduced, who said: I think we ought to be allowed to get our breath after a night's travel on the cars before being called upon to face an audience. Mrs. Longley must think we are speaking machines to be able to talk without a moment's notice. She then said that if she must talk, she wanted to say something concerning the aspects of the cause as viewed by outsiders. It was said women did not ask for the right to vote. This might be true to a certain extent; but it was for the want of proper education and development. The women of this country, and of all countries, were sluggish. They were in a dormant condition, and could not go forward—they had no aim in life beyond marrying, making a show, parading the excellence of their clothing, and exciting admiration among men. (Cheers) All these things prevented our seizing hold of any opportunities that may be open to us, and we need to be incited to nobler duties and higher aspirations. Mrs. Livermore made a fine impression, and was enthusiastically cheered on closing.

The following committees were then appointed: On resolutions: Mrs. D. Morrell, of this city, Miss Rice, of Yellow Springs, Dr. Organ, of Cable, Miss Bronson, of Chanuate, and A. J. Royer, of Dayton. On business: Mrs. M. Currier Brown, of Athens, Mrs. De Chase, of Cleveland, Mrs. Quimby, Miss Burgerine and E. Lougley, of this city. On State organization: Mrs. M. M. Cole, of Sidney, Mrs. Dr. Chase, Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. M. J. Barker, of Toledo, Mrs. J. J. Belleville, of Dayton, Mrs. J. B. Quimby, Mrs. C. D. Ellis, of Yellow Springs.

The Convention then took a recess until 2:30.

AFTERNOON PROCEEDINGS.

Mrs. Langley called the Convention to order.

Mrs. Leclaire, of Madison, Indiana, offered a prayer.

Mrs. Chase, of Dayton, reported the following organization: President—Mrs. M. V. Langley. Vice Presidents—Mrs. Dr. Pulte, Cincinnati: Miss Mary B. Hall, Toledo; Mrs. E. T. Craig, Dayton; Mrs. Ellis, Yellow Springs; Mrs. Allison, Xenia: Mrs. M. Currier Brown, Athens; Mrs. E. D. Stewart, Springfield. Secretaries—Mrs. W. W. Cole, Sidney, and Mrs. Blangy, Cincinnati.

Mrs, De. Chase, of Cleveland, delvered an address. Henry B. Blackwell spoke. Also, Miss Lizzie Boynton, of Crawfordsville, Ind.

A Finance Committee was appointed, viz: Elias Longley, Miss S. A. Burgerine and Mrs. M. M. Coles.

To night Mrs. Livermore will review a letter from Hon. Stanley Matthews, declining to sign for the Convention, and giving his reasons therefor.

CINCINNATI.

Steamboat Boiler Explosion—Six or Seven Persons Killed and Many Wounded—Boat and Cargo a Total Loss—No Insurance.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—The steamer Phantom, an Evansville and Cairo packet, on her down trip exploded her boilers at the foot of Cumberland Island, at ten A. M., near Paducah, Ky. George Nicholson, first clerk, and five or six others were killed and many wounded. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The Phantom was built in September, 1864, and was 171 tons custom house and 275 tons capacity, and was valued this year at $20,000. She was built at Madison, Ind., by Messrs. Irwin & Athers, and has been running from Evansville to Florence, Alabama, as a Tennessee river packet. The past season she has been running from Evansville to Paducah. The owners of the Phantom tried to place several thousand dollars insurance on her last week, but did not succeed. It is believed there was no insurance on her. She left Evansville on Wednesday and Friday evenings for Cairo, and was in command of H. F. Dexter and Mr. Geo. Nicholson, first clerk.

AVONDALE DISASTER.

Verdict of the Inquest—Recommendations by the Jury.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PLYMOUTH, September 13—Midnight.—The jury has returned the following verdict: That the said Palmer Steel and others came to their deaths in the Avondale mines; that the cause of their death was the exhaustion of atmospheric air, or a prevalence of sulphuric and carbonic acid gases in the said Avondale mines, caused by the burning of the head house and breaker at said mine, on the 6th day of September, thereby destroying the air course leading from the mine through the shaft; that the flames originated from the furnace from the mines taken effect from the wooden brackets in the upcast air course leading from the bottom of the shaft to the lead house. The jury regard the present system of mining in a large number of mines now working by shafts as insecure and unsafe to the miners, and would strongly recommend, in all cases where practicable, two places for ingress and egress, and a more perfect ventilation thereby rendering greater security to the lives of the miners under any similar accident.

The Virginia Stay Law Abrogation.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, September 14.—By the provision of the new constitution the Stay Law is abrogated, and the Legislature is prohibited from passing any law to stay the collection of debts. This will bring most of the land property in the State under the hammer of the Sheriff as soon as the State is reconstructed, and the new constitution becomes the law. It will be a source of much hardship to all who owe her any debts and have large judgments recorded against them. A large portion of the judgments are in favor of Northern creditors against merchants here, who intend to hold the judgments against the farmers and planters.

The Cuban Question—Insurrection to be Squelched—General Synod of the Irish Church—International Workingmen's Congress—News from Paraguay—Health of Napoleon—Prince Napoleon's Speech—He Stands by the Government.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SPAIN.

MADRID, September 15.—The journals of this city assert that the Government recently addressed a letter to the Great Powers, respecting a note from Minister Sickles on the subject of the reconstruction of Cuba, and replies favorable to the rights of Spain were received from England, France and Austria.

MADRID, September 15.—The Imparcial says Gen. Prim has sent a telegraphic dispatch to the Government here declaring he will hesitate at no sacrifice to subdue the insurrection in Cuba.

FRANCE.

PARIS, September 15.—The Emperor presided to-day at the Council of Ministers. The official journals announced the health of the Emperor restored. La Patrie states that the Empress will leave again for the East on the 30th inst.

Gen. Prim was accompanied by Silvela and Olozago on his visit to the Emperor. It is understood the Cuban question was discussed at the interview. Gen. Prim is well satisfied with his reception. He will return to Madrid Saturday next.

PRINCE NAPOLEON'S SPEECH—HE PROCLAIMS HIS COMPLETE DEVOTEDNESS NOT ONLY TO THE EMPEROR, BUT ALSO TO HIS SON.

NEW YORK, September 15.—The speech of Prince Napoleon fiills six columns of the Official Journal, and the late foreign papers abound in comments upon it. The telegraph reported the fact that he made a speech; that he suggested reform, and that his speech was criticised by the Government journals. It also informed us later that the Emperor approved the speech. It did not tell, however, what the reforms advocated by the Prince were. We learn from a London journal that he touched upon the five following points: Ministerial responsibility, incompletely and vaguely stipulated by article two of the project; the composition of the Senate to be at least in part the result of popular election, instead of imperial favor; the electoral circumscriptions, or districts, the evil of whose present eccentric arrangement was abundantly seen at the last election; the election of Mayors by the Municipal Councils; the necessity of having two Chambers sharing the legislative power with the Emperor. In the course of his speech Prince Napoleon said: I am anxious to affirm my entire and complete devotedness not only to the Emperor, but also to his son. (Loud applause.) I understand better than any one that my interest as well as my affections are indissolubly bound up in the Empire. (Hear, hear.) I believe the co-existence of the Empire with Liberty to be perfectly possible, and those men who think that it is not are themselves as irreconcilable as they maintain those two words to be. Liberty may be for a time eclipsed, but it is a beacon toward which all civilized nations are tending, and France has a right to count herself among the number. Those men who look upon the present reforms as contrary to the principles of the empire are enemies of the Government. Those who consider them as an experiment only, are equally dangerous. I would have the empire of personal authority burn its vessels, and abandon all ideas of receding. The art of governing is to give way to just aspirations, and not to resist. When all around us, in industry and science, is advancing, would you have political institutions] remain stationary? Progress is as necessary in the latter as in the former, and that onward march belongs to the imperial traditions.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, September 15.—There was a large meeting of cotton merchants, spinners and manufacturers held at Manchester last evening, for the purpose of considering the condition of trade in Lancashire. Speeches were made and resolutions adopted; one of the latter asserted that it was expedient to form an association to urge Parliament to grant an inquiry to ascertain the cause of the depressed state of capital and labor. It was also resolved to hold a series of public meetings in the principal towns. The want of reciprocacy, the French treaty and the system of American imports and English exports were generally condemned.

DUBLIN, September 15.—The General Synod of the Irish Church assembled yesterday at St. Patrick's cathedral. There was a full attendance. A protest against the act of disestablishment was passed by a unanimous vote. A scheme for the formation of a church body, consisting of one hundred and twenty-four representatives, was submitted.

A rumor is in circulation that a Conference will be proposed on the Turco-Egyptian question. Russia and Prussia maintain an attitude of reserve and the other powers are not disposed to accept the proposal, because they regard the question as merely an internal administration of the Turks.

The Pall Mall Gazette to-day maintains that the argument against granting pardons to Fenians on the ground of prudence, is as strong as the argument upon the question of justice. There can be only two constructions put upon such an act, both mischievous; one class will regard it as an act of cowardice and the other as the inauguration of a career of revolution.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A monthly service of a new line of steamers, between London and Aspinwall, will commence today.

LONDON, September 15.—The report is repeated that the Czar has forbidden the attendance of the Russian Bishops at the Ecuminical Council.

PRUSSIA.

BASLE, September 15.—The International Workingmen's Congress convened yesterday, a large number of delegates being present. Congratulatory letters and dispatches from all parts of Europe and North America have been received. A letter from German workmen of New York City regretting their inability to send a delegate, and a communication from the National Labor Union of the United States, were read. Mr. Cameron, an American delegate, made a long speech, and invited the delegates to the National Labor Congress to be held at Cincinnati in 1870.

BERLIN, September 15.—In consequence of the restrictions of the French Atlantic Cable Company, the Federal Telegraph Administration of the North German States has resolved to forward all telegraphic dispatches for America via Valentia, without exception.

PARAGUAY.

PARIS, September 15.—Advices have been receivsd from Paraguay to the 9th of August, via Rio Janeiro. The Provisional Government had been established at Ascuncion. It consisted of the three members, Reduga, Suraga and Viverela. The allies had commenced active operations. The Count D Eu had carried two Paraguayan fortifications and occupied Venzuela.

Generals Osorto, Menaced, Penebuy and Parreto had commenced a flank movement on Asurra.

The Brazilian fleet attacked Penebuy and Sapuye and took many prisoners.

Reinforcements from Matto Grasso and Argentine States had arrived.

News of a general attack on the last stronghold of Lopez was expected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.—The American Pomological Society met in Horticultural Hall this morning; Hon. Marshall P. Wilder presiding. Twenty-two States are represented, and the attendance is larger than ever before. An address was delivered this afternoon by the President. The exhibition of fruits is very attractive and comprises specimens from all sections of the country.

Rise in the Mississippi—Heavy Destruction of Property.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MINNEOPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 15.—A remarkable rise in the Mississippi river has occurred, owing to the long continued and unusually heavy rains. A boom above the dam broke yesterday morning, and one and a half million feet of logs ran over the falls sweeping of the light bush boards of the temporary horse dam which hoids the volume of the Mississippi back from the improvement works. The dam is uninjured.

The Minnesota river, emptying into the Mississippi, is reported as up eight feet, and 15,000 tons of hay swamped out. The rain storm has continued for four days and has done great damage to the grain. The damage in St. Croix county alone is estimated at $150,000.

The Maine Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BELFAST, ME., September 14—Returns from all the towns in Waldo county where Hichborn resides, give Chamberlain 3,138, Smith 2,588, Hichborn 396. Last year these towns gave Chamberlain 1,188 majority. Republican Representatives are chosen in every district except one.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, September 15, 1869.

GEN. SICKLES' INSTRUCTIONS.

It is ascertained from a reliable source that General Sickles was not authorized to make any demand upon the Spanish Government. He was instructed merely to act discreetly, but with earnestness, as mediator between that power and the Cubans on the basis already published for the independence of the Island. Leading members of the Government favor the proposition, but are not free at present to finally accept it.

MINISTER MOTLEY'S INSTRUCTIONS.

The administration has not, contrary to report, restricted Minister Motley in the reopening of negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama claims, although it was thought at the time he received his instructions it would be inexpedient, until the excitement in England, caused by the Senate's rejection of the Clarendon-Johnson treaty had subsided, before even entertaining the subject with Her Majesty's Government, but it was never contemplated that Mr. Motley should neglect any favorable invitation or opportunity to renew negotiations. It is no secret that he was especially instructed on the subject of the naturalization protocol ratified by the Senate, but Parliament has yet to pass the law necessary to carry it into effect. He has since been engaged in the negotiation of a consular treaty, a measure considered of much importance by this Government.

Episcopal Convention—Explanation of Canon XX—Trial of Rev. Charles E. Cheeney.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, September 15.—At the session of the Episcopal Diocesion Convention, to-day, leave was granted to read and offer the following for the consideration of the Convention: It will be seen that the object is to govern cases similar to that of the Rev. Mr. Cheeney. It may be stated that Judge Jameson's action in granting an injunction in this case has been carried to the Supreme Court for review, and a decision is expected in about a month.

A resolution declaratory of the meaning of Canon Twenty of this Diocese, entitled "of the trial of a clergyman not being a Bishop:" Whereas one of the Judges of the Superior Court of Chicago has recently given a construction to some of the provisions of Canon Twenty of this Diocese, at variance with the true intent and meaning of such provisions, and with the usage of this Diocese; therefore, be it resolved by the Convention of the Diocese of Illinois that the true intent, meaning and construction of said Canon Twenty is as follows:

[Here follows cannon Twenthieth and the following are the explanations.] Nothing in the foregoing provisions contained shall be regarded as interfering with the right of the Bishop to institute an inquiry on his own motion. The Bishop has full power and authority, inherent in his office, for the excercise of all manner of government and spiritual discipline in the church within his diocese, and the said foregoing provisions are not intended to be restrictive, but laudatory, as to the exercise of such power, and the authority in particular instances mentioned in section 2, is commented on as follows: But after the Court shall be duly constituted and reorganized, it may adjourn from day to day, or from time to time, without the intervention of the Bishop. A minority of the Court may adjourn from day to day.

Section 3d follows, and relates to the presiding officer and members of the ecclesiastical court. The explanation of its meaning is given as follows: The selection of such assessors is to be made from the list of Presbyteries so furnished by the Bishop, and within such time as the Bishop shall designate. The personal presence of the Presbyteries named in the list is not required for the purpose of such selection, nor are any challenges allowed, except so far as the same are involved in the privilege of selection, herein before provided for.

Sections 4, 5, and 7 follow without explanations.

On section 8 is the following addendum: But this provision is not to be construed as giving such twenty days, or any portion thereof, over and above the thirty days notice of time and place of trial provided for in the fourth section of this canon, except in cases in which the ordinary time required to travel to the place of appearance from the place of service shall be more than ten days. The only object of this provision being to allow the accused twenty days over and above the ordinary time required to travel to the place of appearance in which to determine as to his plea or purpose for trial. Sections 9 and 10 are given without particular explanation.

The resolutions close as follows: All matters of government and discipline in all proceadings not especially provided for by canon, are within the authority and jurisdiction of the ordinary inherent in this office of Bishop.

Mr. Judd explained that the foregoing was not an alteration or amendment of the twentieth canon, but simply an explanation of the meaning.

Several delegates spoke on the matter and it was finally referred to the Committee on Legislation.

The Committee to investigate and ascertain if a salary commensurate with the requirements of the Bishop could not henceforth be paid, reported in favor of raising the assessments sufficient to enable the treasurer to pay the Bishop an annual salary of $5,000.

The Ecclesiastical Court summoned for the trial of Rev. Chas. E. Cheney, met at two o'clock pursuant to adjournment, and at the suggestion of the Bishop adjourned till the 16th of November.

A FRIEND was speaking to Thackeray of a lately deceased Bacchanalian, an ardent disciple of Barclay and Perkins: "Ah!" said the great humorist, with a twinkle in his eye, and a chuckle in his sigh, "Ah!" said he, "take him for half and half, we ne'er shall look upon his like again!"

THE statement so extensively circulated in Democratic newspapers, that Senator Sherman, of Ohio, and Senator Morton, of Indiana, were at personal enmity, is contradicted by both gentlemen. They are now, and have ever been, the warmest personal friends.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

DAYBREAK.

A wind came up out of the sea,
And said, "O, mists, make room for me."

It hailed the ships, and cried, "Sail on,
Ye mariners, the night is gone."

And hurried landward, far away,
Crying, "Awake! it is the day."

It said unto the forest, "Shout,
Hang all your leafy banners out!"

It touched the wood-bird's folded wing,
And said, "O, bird, awake and sing."

And o'er the farms, "O, chanticleer,
Your clarion blow, the day is near."

It whispered to the fields of corn,
"Bow down and hail the coming morn."

It shouted through the belfry tower,
"Awake, O, bell! proclaim the hour."

It crossed the churchyard with a sigh,
And said, "Not yet! in quiet lie."

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

NINETEEN hundred arrests were made in New Orleans during August.

ROBERT BARRY, arrested at Yonkers, N. Y., last week, for violating his young daughter, hung himself in prison.

A MAN and wife named Rayan, in New York City, are charged with killing their little daughter, seven months old, while fighting, one of them falling upon her.

A MAN with an empty sleeve, in the fatigue uniform of the regular army, leaped into the river from the ferry boat at Cincinnati, Monday night, and was drowned.

LYSANDER BURROWS, a shoemaker, was murdered and robbed in Rochester, New York, on Sunday night. The affair is involved in mystery, the murderer being unknown.

A LIVERPOOL woman, doubtful whether the fire in her stove was out, poured gunpowder on the embers in order to ascertain the fact. Her doubts and the rest of her were removed.

"FIRE BUGS" have been operating in Washington City, five fires having occurred in that place on Monday within six hours. The Councils propose offering a reward for the incendiaries.

IT IS asserted that Major Pratt, accused of murder and treason in Texas, sailed for Europe under a false name a few days after his release. Warrants have been sent from Texas for his arrest.

ON Tuesday one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of Steubenville, Ohio, Daniel Potter, Esq., was run over and killed by the cars of the P. C. & St. L. R. R., at Mingo station, about three miles below that city.

THE oldest person in the Ohio penitentiary is John Gull, who has been in that institution about thirty-three years. He was convicted in Stark county, October 24, 1836, of murder in the second degree and sentenced for life.

A MAN and wife, strangers in Utica, N. Y., who were in search of lodgings, were led by a young man to a place of low repute. During the night their room was entered, the man bound and gagged and the wife vilely outraged.

IT HAS been proved by Dr. JACKSON, of Boston, that there was no poisonous matter in the stomach of Mrs. Mahala Gilman, of Albany, N. H., who died several months ago, but whose body was recently exhumed on suspicion that her son, Sanford Gilman, was concerned in her death.

A CLERK in the Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., post office, was stamping letters recently, when suddenly there was a flash and a loud report, and the letters were blown all over the room. Examination showed that a fourteen year old boy, innocent of evil intent, had inclosed about one hundred small flat percussion caps to his brother.

A CONDUCTOR on the North Missouri Railroad named Henry Moak, has been arrested at St. Louis for embezzlement. Having been suspected he was "piped" by a detective and discovered in his crime, failing to account in his report for the fares of four men the detective employed to travel on the train of which he had charge.

A FRENCHMAN in New Orleans, to frighten his poor wife into still greater misery, pretended to kill himself. He held a pistol to his head (over the left), fired and fell, and the wife thought him a corpse, but he wasn't, a fact ascertained after two or three hundred people and a sprinkling of police had been attracted to the dwelling.

NICHOLAS MILLER, of Champaigne, Ill., while in Mahomet, on last Tuesday morning, in a state of delirium attempted to end his earthly career by cutting the shape of a cross upon his left arm with a penknife. He succeeded in severing the main artery, and subsequently tore the bandages off his arm, and by opening the evered arteries anew bled to death.

A Miss BELLE MCCLAINE took the cars at Wheeling for Moundsville on Monday, and as the train was passing through South Wheeling, a ball from a gun fired by a young man out gunning struck the window of the seat she occupied, breaking the glass and striking her on the head, inflicting an ugly scalp wound. The young man who fired the shot was searched for but could not be found.

WARREN KENNEDY, a news dealer, in Cincinnati, Monday afternoon last leaped from a fourth story window to the street below, falling in the descent upon Capt. L. Barney, publisher of the Commercial Bulletin, and then striking upon the tail board of a furniture wagon, receiving fatal injuries. Capt. Barney had two of his ribs displaced. Kennedy was delirious from excessive indulgence in stimulants.

TWO BROTHERS, Thomas H. and William Barrett, after attending their father's funeral at New York city, on Sunday last, became intoxicated and quarreled at the residence of the latter, who ordered the former (Thomas) to leave the house. A man present prevented a collision between the brothers, when a woman, Rebecca Ellen Utt, who was in the room, without any warning rushed at Thomas and stabbed him in the abdomen with a knife, inflicting dangerous injury.

RECENTLY a young man threw himself over the Clifton suspension bridge, at Niagara, into the river. He first took off his hat, coat and waistcoat, and placed them on the footway, then climbed over the iron fence, hung on for a few seconds by both hands, and then by one hand, presently letting go altogether, and dropping into the mud, as it was low water, a depth of nearly 300 feet below the bridge. Many people saw the act, but no one was on the bridge near enough to make an effort to prevent it.

AT Cleveland R. M. Rawley, formerly a member of Company I, First Wisconsin Infantry, had a minie ball extracted from his body, received at the battle of Perrysville, October 8, 1862, almost seven years ago. It took effect below the chin, passing down and outward, wounding the upper margin of the outer one-third of the clavicle, thence passing to the inner surface of the scapula, and during one year worked its way downward between the scapula and the ribs. Then it lodged in the inner space between the fourth and fifth ribs a little posterior to to the axilla, where it remained for six years.

STATE NEWS.

DURING the past two weeks one hundred and fifty unmuzzled canines have been captured in Philadelphia.

MR. JOHN R. PENROSE, a prominent merchant in Philadelphia, died at his residence in Chester county, on the 11th, of gout of the heart.

BURGLARS infest Harrisburg. On Monday night the safe in the office of the Novelty iron works was blown open and two hundred dollars stolen.

THE Pennsylvania Society (at Philadelphia) for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is actively enforcing the law against shooting insectiverous birds.

ALDERMAN MCMULLIN, of Philadelphia, on behalf of the Moyamensing Hose, presented to the Treasurer of the fund $500 for the relief of the Avondale sufferers.

THE colored people of Columbus, Ohio, have secured Rev. H. H. Garnett, President of Avery College, Allegheny city, to deliver an address at their celebration on the 22d.

NICHOLAS SNYDER, of Sagerstown, one of the oldest citizens of Crawford county, died at home on the 10th. He was buried on the 12th, with Masonic orders, by Crawford Lodge No. 234.

BENJAMIN ALLISON, residing in or near New Brighton, was last week convicted in the Beaver court of outraging his own daughter, and sentenced to the penitentiary for four years.

MISS ADELIA GRIFFIN demands $50,000 from Mr. William Van Storck, of Pittstown, for breach of promise. Van Storck is old, and a widower, but he is represented to be Adelia's last chance, and hence his value.

ON the morning of the 11th the body of Adam King was found on the French Creek Flats, about three miles below Meadville, under circumstances leading to the belief that he was murdered. Marks of blows were discovered on his head.

The editorial columns of the Northwestern Independent, published at Butler, are hereafter to be under the charge of John Q. A. Sullivan, Esq. The Northwestern is to appear monthly, and is to be a local and not a general newspaper.

THE Sullivan Free Press says Mr. A. Korn of that county, while lying under a tree in the woods, was attacked by a drove of hogs and literally devoured before assistance reached him. His remains were interred the following day. Very likely!

ON Friday evening, 10th inst., two miners, Englishmen, residing in Tamaqua, were seriously burned in Greenwood colliery, in that borough, by the explosion of a keg of gunpowder, caused by one of the men throwing a lighted match on the floor near where others were engaged in filling cartridges.

A PROFESSIONAL bail-goer, one Sam'l Pennington, is about to come to grief in Philadelphia. It is alleged that he went bail for a party, swearing he was not bail for any one else, when in fact he was bail at the time in $7,800 in the Criminal Court. The charge against him is perjury, and the principal witness in the case will be Judge Ludlow.

A MAN reached Erie, Sunday night, by railroad in a famished condition, having been three days without food. At Jersey City, while intoxicated, a comrade placed him in a freight car, which was afterwards closed up, and when he awoke the train was in motion. All his efforts to attract the attention of the train men failed, and it was not until after he had reached Erie that he was released.

THE York Democrat relates the story that some time last spring, a horse in Newberry township, that county, swallowed a live eel. In its passage, the head of the eel entered the wind pipe of the horse head downwards, while its tail stuck into the throat. The horse was taken seriously ill almost immediately afterwards, the feed and water instead of passing into the stomach, coming out again at the nose. In this plight, he was finally killed, and the eel, putrid and dead, found lodged in the wind-pipe and throat as stated. The Democrat regards the circumstance of the horse drinking in the eel remarkable, as that animal usually takes in water with the teeth closed, but says the statement given is nevertheless true.

TRACES of extinct volcanoes are said to exist in Berks county, Ruscombmanor township, about eight miles from Reading. Several of the craters are quite distinct; one of them is about sixty feet in diameter and filled within about four feet of the surface with mud. At one place the ground was parted, through which pebbles were forced up. There are numerous other signs which indicate that great subterranean convulsions once visited that region. The place has been investigated this summer by a committee of the Reading Society of Natural Science, who are convinced of the fact, and have secured for their cabinet numerous specimens of the float stone, chalcedony and drusdy quartz, which was found in great quantities on the surface.

PERSONAL.

LADY PALMERSTON, just deceased, was eighty-three years of age.

GEN. VAN WYCK, it is authoritively stated, will be married in a few days.

HARRY MOORHOUSE, evangelist, will return to this country at an early day.

A FEMALE clergyman who married a couple in Iowa, kissed the bridegroom.

NEW YORK journalists want a restaurant, to be patronized by them exclusively.

HON. JAMES F. WILSON declines candidacy for the place in the Senate vacated by Mr. Grimes.

"THE corpse's cousins will now come forward," was the order of the master of ceremonies at a country funeral.

MR. WM. SWINTON is en route to California to assume the professorship of belles lettres in the University of that State.

MR. HENRY DRAYTON, a rebel sympathizer in England, who "spit upon the Union," is said to be an American.

THE next move in the Byron-Stowe controversy, the Boston Transcript says, will be the publication of Lady Byron's will.

IT is said that Henry C. Bowen of the Independent has forbidden the Atlantic Monthly in his family because of the Stowe-Byron article.

IN Cork, the crier of the court, anxious to disperse the crowd around the bar, exclaimed, "All ye blackguards that isn't lawyers, quit the Court!"

PROFESSOR HENRY MORTON, of Philadelphia, has been elected to the newly-created professorship of mechanics in the University of Pennsylvania.

TOM THUMB and party advertised in San Francisco in Chinese as well as in English, and during two weeks of performances took in $15,000 in gold.

DORA RICORD, a factory girl at Lowell, drowned herself and left the following record: "When you find this I shall be in heaven and my body in the Merrimack river."

A BOSTON paper announces that before many days expire one of the oldest and most prominent of the clergymen of that city, whose age is not far from 65, will be married to a young lady of 23.

BYRON is now, it seems, to be the theme of an opera. The dashing and eccentric Countess Ratazzi is engaged on a new operatic work (words and music) of which the celebrated poet is the hero.

JOHN TYLER, JR., publishes a card denying the statement that he had "become utterly debased from indulgence in strong drink," and "was admitted into one of the Washington city hospitals." He is supported in his denial by his physicians.

CINCINNATUS J. NEAL, who died in Parkersburg, of cancer, recently, was the oldest citizen of that place and was born there. He was born in 1803, and was a son of John Neal, and grandson of Captain James Neal, the first settler of what is now Wood county.

REV. DR. STOWE, husband of Mrs. H. B. Stowe, being in Canada, was introduced to an English gentleman, who expressed himself very glad to see him, and added, "I should be much more pleased to see your wife." "Yes," said Dr. Stowe, "so should I."

A MAN was lately riding down the steep road on the side of Mount Washington, with every indication that he was about to slide over the horse's neck. Looking back, the guide hailed him, "All right up there, Mr. H.?" "Perhaps so," was the reply; "it all depends on the tenacity of the animal's tail; if that wavers an inch I'm over the precipice!"

A LAWYER in a certain city in Connecticut, not remarkable for his cleanliness of person, appeared at a party a while ago with a rose in his buttonhole. "Where do you suppose it came from," said he to a brother lawyer who was admiring it. The latter looked up and down the entire length of the questioner, and with great deliberation responded, "Why, I suppose it grew there."

IT is related by a gentleman of veracity that when Rosecrans was falling back from Chickamauga, he called his staff around him and asked for a pencil. Every one of the staff felt in his pocket, but not a pencil did he find. The General, flashing his eyes upon them, with much bitterness of tone remarked: "If I had asked you for a corkscrew, every one of you would have had one."

REV. JAS. DURBOROW, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Evangelists, Philadelphia, solemnized on Sunday evening last the one thousandth marriage of his fourteen years' pastorate in that church. The couples, if walking four feet apart, would make a procession of over a mile long. Add the mothers-in-law, and by the aid of a chalk and a piece of shingle the reader can determine for himself the increased length of the line. The laugh comes in on the fact that Mr. Durborow, who has started so many in the pap, spoon and cradle business, has never taken a wife unto himself.

THE rumor that General Granville M. Dodge, of Iowa, will succeed to the War Department, recalls a capital story of that officer, which is good enough to go the rounds again. After the close of the war General Dodge was in command of a post in Louisiana. One day the Adjutant General received a communication from him, stating that he had been offered $50,000 to wink at certain cotton speculations, and refused it. The bid had been increased to $100,000, and then to twice tant amount. The General said he had refused all the offers, but the last sum was "very near his price," and he wished to be relieved before a louder call on his probity was made. His request was granted.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE JEWS have entered their 5630th year.

MAYOR COLE, of St. Louis, declined to declare the Humboldt anniversary a holiday.

H. HEIMAN, of St. Paul, who fell from the cars and was killed, near Valparaiso, Ind., on the 9th inst., was a prominent clothing merchant, and had $9,000 insurance on his life. He was fifty-four years of age, and leaves a widow and eight children.

IN ALLUDING to the demand for a revision of the law, in England, in reference to compensation to passengers injured by railway accidents, the London Economist suggests the expediency of amending the statutes on this subject, so as to levy fines on the railway companies whenever any collision takes place through the default of the officers.

ACTION was taken in the St. Louis county court, on Monday, to secure better treatment of the insane, it having been ascertained that for want of better accommodation a number of insane persons had been for a long time confined in the city work-house, a place entirely unsuited for such cases as might be benefitted by medical treatment in an asylum.

THE wool crop of Michigan, it is asserted, amounted in 1868 to fourteen millions and a half pounds, while the yield of 1869, it is estimated, was only from ten millions and a half to eleven million pounds. The crop of 1869, it is asserted, was sent very promptly to market, and not more than 10 or 15 per cent. of the clip remains in the growers' hands.

A MASTADON recently found in Salem county, N. J., proves to be the largest skeleton of the kind in the world, being larger than the one at the British Museum. Its head measures five feet in length, and two feet six inches between the eyes; the ribs are five feet long. As yet only a part of the leg bones have been found. The work of excavating for the remainder of the skeleton is to be resumed. Curiosity seekers have broken off pieces and defaced parts of it.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Sept. 15, 1869.

Business generally is fairly active, and improving slowly, and there is every prospect, at present, of a good fall trade. Grain continues to arrive pretty freely, and while there is no accumulution, the supply, nevertheless, is fully up to the demand. Flour is quiet and with more liberal receipts and an increased supply; our mills appear to have the outside track, as the low price of wheat here enables them to compete pretty successfully with western flours. Provisions and Groceries, quiet and unchanged.

APPLES—In better supplly: sales at $2@3@3,50 per bbl, as to quality.

BUTTER—Common Butter is in good supply, dull and drooping, while prime to choice still command full prices, 33@35.

BERRIES—Sales of blackberries at $1@1,10 per bucket.

CEMENT—Johnstown Hydraulic Cement is quoted at $2,25 per bbl.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged, ranging from 14 to 17 cents, as to quality.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands may be quoted 29 cents for round lots, and 30@31 in a jobbing way.

EGGS—Have still further advanced, and we now quote at 25 for fresh packed.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged—receipts increasing and stocks accumulating. We continue to quote western winter wheat brands, at $6,75@7,00 for good, and $7,25 for choice.

GRAIN—There is not much inquiry for wheat, the mills being pretty well stocked, though the arrivals are by no means large; prime Red is quoted at $1,30 and white at $1,35@1,37. Oats firm at the advance—47@48 on track and wharf, and 50@52 for small lots in store. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Sept. 15, 1869.

The oil market opened up strong and was considerably excited during the greater part of the day and in the afternoon, under the influence of more favorable advices from abroad, prices ruled higher, particularly for Crude, in which there was an unusually large volume of business. Those of our refiners and dealers who are deeply interested in higher prices appeared to be very much elated, pointing significantly to the light shipments and reduced stocks in the east together with the improved character of the foreign advices, as a sure precursor of better prices. It is a noticeable fact, however, that crude still keeps pace with refined, the former advancing equally with the latter, so that the manufacturer, particularly those who are anxious and in condition to resume business, are in reality but little better off now than before. It is true they can get a slight advance for refined but then they have to pay more for crude.

REFINED.

Sales 500 each, September to December, at 32½; 1,000 spot, at 32¾; 500 do, at 32½; and 1,000, last half this month at same figures. It was also reported that a prominent house had sold largely, but after inquiring, it would appear that such was not the case. We can also report a sale of 3,000 bbls in Antwerp, on spot, at 58¼.

CRUDE.

Sales, early in the day, of 500 bbls, at 14½; 1,000 seller September, at 14¾; and 1,000, same delivery, at $5,70 at Oil City, considered equivalent to 14½ here. Subsequently, 1,000 each, September to Dceember, at 14¾; 1,000 each, same months, (40 to 45 gravity) at 14¾; 1,000 each October to December, at 14¾; 1,000 October, at 14¾; 1,000 seller September, at 14 15 16; 1,000 same delivery, (40 to 45 gravity) at 15; 5,000 seller 90 days, at 14¾; and 5,000 seller till December 1st, at 14¾. Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, September 15—Owing to a recurrence of Jewish holidays, trade has fallen off considerably to-day, but among christian merchants busines is moderately active and prices generaly firm. The Pacific mills have advanced the price of new side stripes of prints to 14c, and American have put their new styles up ½ cent per yard. In other classes of cotton goods there is very litte change to observe. We notice a new print called the Sterling, in the market, which is offered at 11½c, and being on a standard cloth is relatively very cheap. All cheap balmorals have been pretty nearly closed, and now apart from brand nothing can be obtained bolow $8,75 per dozen.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily with four feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather last evening cloudy and warm with every appearance of rain.

The Belle from Parkersburg, and the New State, from Wheeling, arrived and departed as usual.

The Wild Duck was so unfortunate as to stick one of her barges at Deadman, and at last accounts the river was falling just about as rapidly as it could be lightened. Capt. Anawalt suggests the propriety of changing the name of this place from Deadman to Dead-Duck. The Storm took the other barge out yesterday.

Cable and Shouse were the pilots on the Gray, and Capt. Sam Dean and Tom Morris on the Rudolph.

The Kenton was at Parkersburg yesterday, and Capt. Kerr, telegraphed that she would arrive here to night.

Leander Patterson and Thomas Kinsey were the pilots on the Wild Duck, and they are hard to beat.

The new steamer Julia A. Rudolph departed for New Orleans with an excellent trip, having all the freight she could carry.

The R. C. Gray departed for Cincinnati and Louisville with all she could take on the water.

Capt. J. C. Vanhook, late of the Great Republic, has reached home again. His numerous friends and acquaintances will be glad to learn that he is in good health and spirits.

We may expect quite a number of mountain boats here this fall—among others, the Mollie Ebert, Arkansas, Sallie and Silver Lake.

The lock on the Monongahela is still out of order, and it is uncertain when it will be repaired.

The Maggie Hays from Cincinnati arrived yesterday

Repairs, at Lock No. 2 will not be completed until the first of next week.

The Pittsburgh, Brownsville and Geneva Packet Company have chartered the Elizabeth, which will leave daily at 5 P. M. Passengers will only be detained twenty minutes at No. 2.

R. R. Abrams, Sup't.

—The St. Marys was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

—John Hathaway, an old Nashville steamboat engineer, died a few days ago, at his home in Kentucky.

—The Sallie, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Evansville on Monday, and has probably ere this passed up over the falls.

—A late Memphis paper says: The Great Republic, in backing out from the wharf, came near sinking the wharf-boat at the foot of Madison street. The wharf-boat was crowded out on shore.

—The Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company have so much business that additional steamers are wanted in the Vicksburg extension of their line: consequently two of their steamers, which were lying in wharf for such a contingency, will be added to the fleet now running.

—The Fayette has been sold by the Portsmouth, Big Sandy and Pomeroy Packet Company, to the parties having the transfer contract with the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad, for the transfer of freights and passengers between Evansville and Henderson. The Fayette is a side-wheel steamer, 162 feet long, 27 feet beam, with 19 inch cylinders, and 5½ feet stroke. Price $15,000.

—A Louisville special to the Cincinnati Commercial, says: The Ohio River Bridge Co. are making every effort to secure their trestle-work by weighing it down, from the tide, which is now over the crib dam of Gen. Weitzel, wholly stopping all work upon the dam, as well as interrupting the work on the bridge. The company removed the obstructions in the Indian chute, by removing the boats or flats moored across the middle of this pass. This leaves a space of 150 feet for the passage of steamers, a very narrow and precarious channel.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette of Tuesday: The dam which had been erected in the middle of the river opposite Parkersburg by the B. & O. R. R. Co. to aid in the construction of the railroad bridge at that point, and which broke loose last week, floated past here at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The towboat Hawkeye, which has been doing a jobbing business here for several weeks, got hold of it, but failed to land it. The dam is more than 100 feet square, and, we understand, is loaded with stone to sink it, which makes it draw about 12 feet of water. We wonder what the effect will be when it comes in contact with the frame work of the bridge now being erected over the falls at Louisville?

MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

THE Baptist Church at Avondale lost all its male members but three by the terrible mine disaster.

THE MINERS who lost their lives at Avondale were nearly all Welshmen, and nearly all Republicans.

THE Chinese mission is said to have been tendered to, and declined by, Ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey.

GOV. HOFFMAN has certified the ratification of the XVth Article by New York, in compliance with a direct request made to him by the State Department.

THE English Government are not inclined to renew the Alabama negotiations, so long as there is any prospect that our own Government will concede the British position on that question, by recognizing the belligerency of Cuba. In this connection, we may remark that if Minister SICKLES has given to the authorities at Madrid any intimation of our intention to recognize that belligerency, he has done so wholly without instructions from Washington.

THE Allegheny Valley Railroad bridge at Oil City is rapidly approaching completion. By the first of next January trains will pass over and make connection with the roads penetrating the upper Allegheny districts and reaching all the important lake shore points, and at the same time securing new outlets to the east and west. The bridge will be a superior specimen of workmanship and in keeping with the general appointments of this well managed railway.

AN ABSURD report comes from the Pacific coast announcing the discovery of a paper upon the sea-beach, purporting to be a memorandum from the Franklin expedition, the survivors of which, deserting the ships, had then made their way to a point in latitude 69 north and longitude 98 west, where they threw into the sea the vessel containing this document. Unfortunately, it appears that this point is hundreds of miles in the interior of the Arctic Continent. Otherwise, the story would be plausible.

GREAT ACTIVITY prevails in the oil regions, and operations are going on vigorously both in producing and developing. The fears entertained a few weeks ago that the region was well nigh exhausted of its rich oleaganious deposits, are now effectually dissipated, as the yield is on the increase and new wells are constantly awarding explorers. Experiments are going forward in the region near Tidioute to discover a new oil belt running northeast from the present line, and if successful fresh life will be given to the trade in that region.

OUR CITY has been honored this week with the convening together in Convention of all the master mechanics of the leading railways of the country. The object of the meeting was to enable the members, by an interchange of views and opinions, to profit by each others wisdom and experience in the construction and operation of roads and of rolling stock. We have seldom seen together any body of mechanics so conspicuous for learning and intelligence, and doubtless much practical good will result from the meeting. With commendable good taste the leading iron and steel manufacturers of the city have tendered the Association a grand complimentary banquet, which will be held to-night at the Monongahela House.

OUR PEOPLE will not fail to contribute their just share to the Avondale relief fund. It is proposed that this fund shall be permanent, and that it shall reach $250,000. We find a list of the victims by this terrible calamity in the Luzerne journals. These are 108 in number. Of these 67 were married, 22 of them having each one child, 10 of them each having two children, 11 of them each three children, 7 of them 4 children and 3 of them each 5 children or more. Sixty-seven widows and one hundred and twenty-two orphans! We hope each reader of this paragraph will try to form a correct idea of what his or her feelings or impulses would be, if that stricken and mourning congregation were grouped standing in the visible presence of our pitying eyes!

IN a recent protracted and extended journey through the northwestern counties of the State we were enabled to judge correctly of the very decided popularity of Gov. Geary, and of the disfavor in which the Democratic millionaire is held. There is now not the least doubt but Geary will be re-elected by an overwhelming majority. Everywhere the ranks are closely cemented together and the greatest harmony prevails even in sections where local causes combined to insure dissension. We can safely assure our readers that other counties will do their accustomed share of the work in securing the desired result and it only remains in Allegheny to look to her own laurels and sustain the reputation she has made of furnishing Republican majorities which would do credit to States.

THE Jamestown and Franklin Railroad is now recognized as the Franklin Division of the Lake Shore Railroad, a consolidation having been recently effected. GEORGE H. MCINTIRE, ESQ., one of the most efficient and thoroughly skilled railroad men of the country, we are glad to state, retains his position under the new order of things, as Superintendent. He is the right man in the right place, and eminently worthy the large share of confidence and respect reposed in him. The work of extending the road to Oil City is being rapidly pushed forward and will be completed by the incoming of the next year. The route follows the Allegheny river and is parallel with the line of the Valley Railroad on the opposite bank. When finished, the extension will prove an important feeder to the great road of which it is now parcel and part.

AVONDALE—WHAT WAS IT?

The verdict of the Coroner's inquest at Avondale does not corroborate the horrible suspicion which had begun to whisper that the disaster was really a wholesale murder. The jury positively declared their opinion that the fire originated from the furnace at the foot of the shaft. So far as we have seen the evidence upon which this finding is made up, it is apparent that the enquiry has been conducted with care and with nerve, with a view only to revealing the truth, reflect upon whom this might. We are therefore inclined to regard the verdict of the jury as the most enlightened and reliable judgment upon the facts.

Nevertheless, if murder has been done here, it may have baffled, and may always baffle, any possible investigation. Dead men tell no tales; not one man lives, in the public knowledge, who can say that he saw the fire break out. The only witnesses who could have told the true story, were those who perished in the pit. The Coroner's evidence has been almost wholly conjecture, hypothesis and a posteriori argument. If better proof be extant, it hides away in the conscious guilt of murder; time alone will disclose it to the world.

It is true that the suspicion to which we refer largely rests upon the hostile feeling known to exist between the Avondale operatives and the other members of the Miners' Union from which they had seceded. It is also known that these operators were Welshmen almost to a man. Of the 108 names of the victims here before us, the full hundred bear the familiarly known Welsh names. The anthracite country is full of the records of national ill-will between the Welsh and Irish miners. It is but a few years since an armed mob of the latter surrounded a Welsh church at Archbald, in this Luzerne county, on a quiet Sunday morning, forced the congregation to leave the building, and then set it on fire, burning it to the ground before the eyes of the men, women and children who had been worshipping there. The same spirit was constantly betrayed. The mutual jealousies of the two classes have been the chronic basis for constant turbulence in those districts. Here is, we hope, the only real foundation for the shocking suspicion that this fire was the work of an incendiary. And with such a social status always existing, it would be strange if this suspicion had not found a public utterance now. We must hope that there was really nothing more in it.

THE AVONDALE DISASTER.

Men who are regularly engaged in hazardous employments almost universally become reckless and disregard the ordinary suggestions of prudence. This was strongly illustrated in the case of the Luzerne county miners when they commenced the long strike sixteen weeks ago. The Companies were anxious to continue the engineers at their posts, pumping out water and pumping in air. The miners knew that sooner or later they would resume work in the old places, but they drove the engineers away, in some instances breaking the pumping machinery. The same indifference to danger was evinced by this class in going into the Avondale mine before its ventilation had been fully accomplished. Nor was this a solitary instance of this species of indiscretion. A day or two before the Avondale catastrophe work was resumed in an old mine which had a ventilating shaft. The foreman pointedly cautioned the miners to extinguish their lamps before beginning the ascent to the outer world. This order was disregarded by all of them. What was the consequence? The fresh air forced in to the "breast," where the men were engaged in taking out coal, naturally caused the foul air to seek egress by both shafts. As the workmen ascended their lamps set the gas on fire, and but for the self-possession of a workman outside a terrible tragedy would have resulted. He instantly covered the mouth of the pit with plank, and these with old blankets, which he saturated with water, thus speedily smothering the flame, which had not reached down into the mine.

We make these statements in order to show that while a law is needed to compel proprietors to take all due precautions for the safety of miners employed by them, legal provision is just as much required for constraining miners not to meddle with the measures adopted for their own safety, and to punish them for disobeying the orders of their foremen in this regard.

That not a little of the mining in the anthracite counties is conducted without proper reference to the security of either life or property, is evident enough. But many of the averments of the New York journals, on this head, are simply in accordance with the ignorance usually evinced in that quarter touching all Pennsylvania affairs. Take for illustration, the complaint that no ventilating shaft had been provided for this Avondale mine. This is a new mine, having been worked only a few months. Two shafts, side by side, one for working and the other for air, would have been of no practical utility. A mine must progress to a certain distance before a ventilating shaft becomes necessary or of special value. Such a shaft would have undoubtedly, according to the rules pervailing in the county, have been put into the mine, when it had been run far enough. It is possible that if an air shaft had been sunk in this mine within a hundred feet of the working shaft, the men might have escaped; but this is hardly probable.

Of course, the laws should determine how far a mine may be pushed before a ventilating shaft must be put in. But to assume that neglect of ordinary and fair precaution was evinced by the absence of such a shaft in this mine, shows a total lack of knowledge of the whole subject.

We have long felt that the "cracker" ought not to be built over the pit mouth, whether the mine is worked by shaft or plane. A "cracker" is an immense wooden structure, an hundred feet high, the machinery in it driven by a steam engine. This fabric is liable to at least all the ordinary risks of fire, and in case of conflagration, while the miners are at work, peculiar hazards are incurred. The proposition to substitute iron frames for wooden ones in these structures, is not sufficient. Nothing short of constructing entirely of iron will answer the purpose, provided the "cracker" is built over the pit mouth.

The Avondale mine adjoins the Union mine owned by the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company. The distance through from one of these mines to the other does not exceed fifty feet. Operations in either mine can be heard distinctly in the other. If the Avondale proprietors had run a tunnel into the Union mine, which has more than one outlet, their miners would not have been hopelessly imprisoned. The usage which prevails sanctions this procedure. The objection to it, on the part of the owners of the Avondale mine was that their mine being lower than the other the running of a common tunnel would have let the water of the Union mine in upon them, thus forcing them to do the water pumping for both mines. This might have been avoided by giving the tunnel the form of an arch or siphon; but the expectation was to complete an independent air-shaft at as early a day as possible.

No motive, except that of economy, exists for building the "cracker" over the pit. It costs less, while hoisting the coal out of the mine, to send it directly to the top of the "cracker," than to stop it midway, dump it into cars, run it five hundred or more feet, and then lift it to the head of the "cracker." But security demands that the "cracker" should be removed to such distance as in no case to obstruct egress from the mines.

The ventilating apparatus used is often defective. Sometimes common tin pipes are put in, which are soon corroded and destroyed by the acids of the mines. Even these pipes are frequently not extended as the coal is taken out, so that the pure air does not reach the farther parts of the mine, to refresh the laborers and help expel the bad air. If an iron pipe, such as is ordinarily used to conduct water, and twelve inches in diameter, should be put in, and this divided into several smaller ones on reaching the points where mining is going on, such a volume of air would be forced in as to expel to the desired degree all impurities, and would be secure, for long periods, against corrosion or breaking.

But, it is useless, here and now, to consider all the points in the case. This matter is destined to come before the next Legislature. It is, therefore, desirable that as many of the gentlemen who may be elected to either of the two Houses as can shall visit the anthracite counties before January shall come in, talk with both proprietors and miners, go into the mines and examine everything for themselves. Legislation accomplished under excitement is well enough, provided the agitation leads to a careful scrutiny of all the essential facts pertaining to the subjects.

Mining is a dangerous employment, and cannot be reduced to the risks of agriculture. This presents no reason why the dangers should not be brought to the lowest practicable point. But it happens that the wages of the miners are much higher than in ordinary departments of industry; so that the miners are paid abundantly for the hazards they run. Besides, we apprehend that, taking a considerable series of years, deaths in the mines, in proportion to numbers, are scarcely more than on railroads in the general system of the country. However this may be, whatever can be done to avert dangers and suffering among the miners should be done, and without reference to the money cost. The expense will fall at first on the proprietors, but will ultimately be diffused over the whole population consuming anthracite, the price of coal being made to cover the increased cost of sending it to market.

SKIES BRIGHT.

Pennsylvania and Ohio are, in this year of grace 1869, as soundly and faithfully Republican as in any year past. Aye, and more so! Ohio promises to us a larger majority than she gave to GRANT last year, while the relative strength of parties was never so favorable, as now, to Republicanism in our own Commonwealth.

We have none but encouraging tidings from every quarter of Pennsylvania. Governor GEARY strengthens himself daily with the people. Every meeting which he addresses is a local triumph, and his audiences are enthusiastic for the soldier of Lookout Mountain, and the upright and fearless Executive. Almost daily, the Governor meets his constituents face to face, and talks to them so effectively to the purpose, that hundreds of his old opponents who come to scoff, remain, regretting their injustice.

The soldiers who never dodged their country's call to arms, the tax-payers who don't dodge their just obligations to the State, the Republican masses of the people who don't mean to dodge their duty at the polls—these are rallying, every man of them, to the support of the loyal and tax-paying ticket of a party which is steadily and rapidly cancelling the Democratic debt of the Commonwealth.

Partisan slander has recoiled from our candidate, who stands the stronger, today, for the malignant but exploded fabrications of his and our enemies. This is so evident that the libellers of Republicanism find it expedient to let GEARY alone, and are just now firing away at Judge WILLIAMS, with about as much effect as if they were dogs barking at the moon.

While the Republican ranks are everywhere closed up, and every man has eyes front at attention, the opposite organization is crumbling away in all parts of the State. While Gov. GEARY grows stronger with our friends, Mr. PACKER grows every day weaker with the Democracy. The one represents living principles which a free people love, and what the other represents no two Democratic editors or orators can agree upon defining.

The signs are auspicious for a larger majority to GEARY in 1869, than we gave to President GRANT in 1868. Our Governor is safe beyond a contingency. Let our friends look now to their Legislative tickets!

MINOR TOPICS.

Mr. SEWARD, in his recent speech at Sitka, predicted that Alaska would some day become the ship yard for the world. Formerly, American statesmen were in the habit of predicting that America must become the source from which the rest of the world should draw her shipping. A favorite idea, some score or two of years ago, was that, in the event of a foreign war, our navy could speedily be rendered irresistible and the enemy's commerce annihilated by the innumerable vessels which could be constructed upon the Mississippi river and its branches and sent from thence out into the oceans. Yet the little island of Great Britain does most of the ship-building; iron war ships have rendered the idea of our impromptu navy obsolete. The forests have been cut down from nearly all the accessible parts of the country, new ones are not planted, and we are fast becoming a treeless country. This annihilation of the woods naturally affects the waters, and the rivers have decreased in volume. The upper Ohio is no longer navigable for the boats which formerly plowed its waters, and it is the same way with all the other great streams. So if Mr. Seward's northern continent of Walrussia can be allowed to keep its trees, the time may come when it shall fulfill the prophecy of the ex-Secretary.

OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS are exercising a potent influence upon the future men of this country. For hours each day the minds of our youth are spread out before them as ready for impressions, more or less lasting, as so many sheets of wax. Is it not through these teachers that any great reform must be operated? Year by year crime increases and immorality becomes more prevalent, although the pulpit and the press have been working with much of their great weight thrown against the rising tide; but this work has been directed mainly through the parents and it has not succeeded. Why not now try what can be done through the teachers? The one particular crime which seems to increase most alarmingly is that of embezzlement or false appropriation. In most cases the sad history is the same. A young man, anxious to become rich and with confused notions as to right and wrong, borrows money without informing the lender af the fact, and in a short time the money is gone and cannot be replaced; then follows exposure and disgrace. Corrupt and thoughtless parents cannot be depended upon, but if every teacher would exert himself to impress his pupils constantly with the idea that surreptitious borrowing, for whatever purpose, is stealing, is it not possible that a few might take it to heart who otherwise would become the heroes of one of those romances of defalcation which people our State prisons? And if so, is not the experiment worth trying?

SOME PERSONS are beginning to doubt whether politeness demands that a man should give up his seat in a car as soon as a woman makes her appearance. To our mind there is, in the premises, room for the exercise of a good deal of judgment. The cars are public conveyances, and are legally unable to take more passengers on board than they can supply with seats. A man gets in, pays six cents for his seat and occupies it; a woman comes in when the seats are full, and has no more right to that man's six cents' worth of accommodation than she would have in the market to your carefully selected delicacy, the supply of which had become exhausted. It is not, then, as some women seem to think, one of a woman's rights; it is simply a question of amiability. We have seen young men who allowed an old man to stand, but sprang up, as if propelled from a needle-gun, if a pretty girl came in, who, possibly, was stronger and better able to stand than they were themselves. Our advice is that each man should first decide that he has a right to the seat, and then decide solely upon the merits of each case, whether he will give it up or not. Remembering that a weary man or a tired woman, even though she be neither young nor pretty, is often really worthy of consideration in street-cars.

STATE POLITICS.

THE Atloona Vindicator, Democratic, of the most virulent species, doesn't pay and is offered for sale.

HON. R. M. BEATTY presided at, and Hon. T. J. Bigham addressed, a large Republican meeting at Kittanning on the 7th inst.

THE Republican County Executive Committee of Armstrong is working that county well this campaign. Mr. Alexander Reynolds is the energetic chairman.

A NEW Democratic paper has been established at Ridgway, Elk county, in the interest of a faction of the party in that county known as the Ridgway ring.

THE Republican conference, which met at Lewistown on the 10th inst., nominated as candidates for Assembly, General T. F, McCoy, of Lewistown, and John N. Swoope, of Huntingdon.

Public Opinion says that the Republican ticket in Franklin county was never composed of better men than the present candidates. In point of ability and general merit they are unexceptionable.

THE Mauch Chunk Gazette "has it on the best authority that Judge Packer remarked the other day that he believed his chances for election poor." Packer's opinion on Packer's chances ought to carry weight.

GEN. D. B. MCCREARY, of Erie, late Adjutant General of the State, and C. O. Bowman, Esq., of Corry, have been nominated for the Assembly by the Republicans of Erie county. This will give that county an able representation in the Legislature.

THE Lehigh Register says: When Dr. Cattell, the energetic President at Lafayette College at Easton, sought assistance from the men of wealth of this valley to save that venerable institution from ruin, he appealed to Asa Packer, but got from him no assistance. He next applied to Mr. Ario Pardee, of Hazleton, whose generosity immediately responded by a handsome endowment. The personal pride of Asa Packer was aroused upon this, and then he endowed Lehigh University.

IT IS confidently predicted in Carbon county that Mr. Packer will run behind his ticket. He is decidedly unpopular with the workingmen. He has never, with all his wealth, done aught to alleviate the sufferings of the poor. Where he is best known, people laugh at the idea of his being charitable. His corruption fund, in this canvass, is to be used in buying up men of supposed influence with workingmen. The bone and sinew should be on the look-out and distrust all who suddenly become convinced that Packer is a great friend to the cause of labor.

In Memoriam.

At a special meeting of the Board of Inspectors of the Western Penitentiary, held September 15th, 1869, to take action on the death of our late colleague, James Marshall, Esq., the following resolutions were adopted and ordered to be published.

WHEREAS. The death of James Marshall, Esq., our colleague and friend, which occurred suddenly on the 9th inst., is an impressive dispensation of Providence which we dare not misinterpret, and cannot misunderstand. God has spoken to us, almost in an audible voice; that while five of us were in this field together, the one is taken and the others left; watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. Resolved therefore:

1st. That as a Christian James Marshall was an honest upright man, and feared God and eschewed evil.

2nd, As a Business man, he was full of integrity, prompt in his engagements, and successful in his undertakings.

3d. As a public citizen, he was enterprising in his character, liberal in his views, and willing to expend his strength for the public good.

4th. As a patriot, although an adopted citizen of this young republic, he was pre-eminently a lover of his country. In the dark days of the late rebellion he planted himself as a rock on the side of the Union and never faltered; and ever since in the bestowment of any office his stern and unyielding judgment must first be satisfied that the applicant was honest and loyal.

5th. As an inspector of this institution, he was brought into more intimate contact with us. In the management of the Penitentiary, his judgment was sound and his conclusions just. Economy, honesty, and a rigid obedience to law, were the cardinal principles of his official life; and in his last intercourse with the prisoners, while he taught them to expect that the inflexible law of justice would be meted out, yet, underlying this seeming severity, he made them also feel that he was not insensible of their infirmities, that he pitied their misfortunes and was willing to devote much of his time to alleviate their condition and win them back to an honest and virtuous life.

Resolved, That in recognition of his memory and his worth, the Warden be requested to drape the office of the institution in mourning.

Resolved, That a copy of this minute be sent to the family of our deceased friend, with the assurance that in this death they have our unfeigned sympathy.

[Signed] THEODORE H. NEVIN,
ORMSBY PHILLIPS,
JAMES A. LOWRIE,
ROBERT H. DAVIS,
Inspectors.

Obituary.

At his residence in Jackson township, Venango county, on Friday last, Mr. John Bleakley, father of Col. James Bleakley, President of the International Bank of Franklin, departed this life. The deceased was widely known and universally respected. He was born near Iniskillen, county Tyrone, Ireland, in 1788, and was one of the Bleakley's who, with a single exception, made up the entire population of Murphy township. The deceased came to America in 1819, and was married a short time subsequently to an accomplished lady of Pottsville, who preceded him to the grave. He was a zealous, devoted and consistent member of the Presbyterian church and passed through a long life of usefulness with a record unsullied and a name associated with no discreditable act. He was buried with Masonic honors on Sunday last. The funeral cortege was one of the largest ever witnessed in the section. A very large delegation of Masons were in attendance from Franklin, the deceased being a member of the order for over half a century, having been initiated in Ireland as early as 1819.

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—LUNG-WORT.

One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this article; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues. Whether we regard lung diseases in the light of a merely slight cough, which is but the fore-runner of a more serious malady, or as a deep lesion corroding and dissolving the pulmonary structure, it is always pregnant with evil and foreboding of disaster. In no class of maladies should the physician or the friends and family of the patient be more seriously forewarned than in those of the lungs, for it is in them that early and effielent treatment is most desirable, and it is then that danger can be warded off and a cure effected. In DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE you have a medicine of the greatest value in all these conditions. An alterative, a tonic, a nutrient and resolvent, succoring nature and sustaining the recuperative powers of the system, Its beautiful workings, in harmony with the regular functions, can be readily observed by the use of one or two bottles: it will soon break up the chain of morbid sympathies that disturb the harmonious workings of the animal economy. The harrassing cough, the painful respiration, the sputum streaked with blood, will soon give place to the normal and proper workings of health and vigor.

An aggregated experience of over thirty years has enabled Dr. Keyser, in the compounding of his LUNG CURE, to give new hope to the consumptive invalid and at the same time speedy relief in those now prevalent, catarrhal and throat affections, so distressing in their effects and so almost certainly fatal in their tendencies, unless cured by some appropriate remedy. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is so thorough and efficient, that any one who has ever used it, will never be without it in the house. It will often cure when everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure oftentimes in a few days.

The attention of patients, as well as medical men, is respectfully invited to this new and valuable addition to the pharmacy of the country.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 1 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, and from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

THE FEVER AND AGUE SEASON.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marshes and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapor perilous to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity, is not in a proper plight to resist malaria, and hence all diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the following warning and advice conveyed in this advertisment, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising, night and day, from the soil around them. No farmhouse in the land should be without this invaluable exhilerant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill, misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has yet given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are admitted to be the purest, the most wholesome and the most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the bilious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.
Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation, 437 miles long, upon which it is also a mortgage, NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Sept. 15, 1869.

A strong effort was made again to-day by the gold operators to run up the premium, and the price was run up to 136¼, closing at 136⅛. The parties who have the controling interest in the gold room, are also the principal operators in the Michigan Southern, Ohio and Mississippi, and Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and the Erie railroad, and by their sales of Erie at an advance over 10 per cent. are enabled to put their own figures on gold; the mercantile community, however, is awaiting lower prices before purchasing exchange for remittance.

Government bonds were stronger and firmer to-day, sympathizing with the advance in gold, the market, however, is not strong, and no speculative interest for a rise is manifested. It is confidently expected that just as soon as the Government will cease buying bonds, lower quotation, are expected with certainty.

Stocks are dull and lower this evening.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, September 15, 1869.

Money market easy, at 7 per cent. on call. Discounts nominal.

Secretary Boutwell is expected to arrive here this afternoon and will spend to-morrow in the city.

The downward course of Pacific Mail shares for some time past attracts much attention, and the decline to-day to 72¼, which affected the whole stock list unfavorably, was the topic of general discussion. It is stated a loan was negotiated some time past with a foreign bank in gold on Pacific Mail stock, equal to about $3,500,000 in currency, and that this loan falls due on the 22d inst. and will not be renewed. It is also reported that the bulk of capital stock is concentrated in a few hands, from 50,000 to 70,000 shares being held by two firms. The price touched to-day is the lowest reached since 1861, when it sold at 50 per cent in gold. There have been some large sales of long stock lately, which in connection with the gossip noticed above, have completely demoralized the street on Pacific Mail speculation, and in fact on stock market generally.

Sterling dull at 8@8¼ per cent. Gold is active, and opened at 136¼, fell to 135⅞, advanced to 136¼, and closed at 136⅛@136¼. Carrying rates at 1-32 per cent. to flat, and 6@7 per cent. per annum. The clearances were nearly $93,000,000. There is a rumor on the street that attempts will be made to put up the price to-morrow, in connection with the Government sale of one million gold.

The market thus far this week has been rather strong, which may be attributed to a diminished supply, though prices, when the quality of cattle is taken into consideration, are unchanged. Shippers generally argued that prices should have been lower, and that the eastern market this week had been anything but satisfactory, but with a light supply and a fair number of buyers in attendance, holders would not make concessions, and all grades of cattle sold full up to last weeks prices.

Prime to extra fat steers may be quoted at 7¼@7½@7¾, and a fancy drove or two, if there had have been any such on sale, would probably have brought 8 cents. It was remarked to day that commonish cattle sold more readily than last week, and in some cases, at rather better prices.

New Yorkers, as has been the case for some time past, are taking most of the cattle, here, Philadelphians, it is alleged, being able to buy to better advantage in Baltimore. Heretofore, Philadelphia, has usually drawn pretty heavily for supplies, particularly at this season of the year, but New York operators, owing to some cause or other, appear to be able to give better prices, and as a consequence, they get the cattle.

SHEEP.

In good supply and rather dull, under the influence of adverse reports from the east, though prices compared with last week have undergone no essential change, ranging from 3 to 5 cts. One drove of extra Indiana sheep, averaging close to 100 lbs, brought 5,10; but shippers generally did not want to pay above 4@4½ for the best grades. and there were not many sales made above these quotations.

HOGS.

The Hog market was firm and a little excited on Monday in consequence of very light offerings and prices advanced ¼@¾, but since then, under the influence of increased receipts, an easier feeling has prevailed and the advance then established, has been almost if not entirely lost. We now quote Philadelphia Hogs at 10⅜@10⅝, and Yorkers at 9¼@9¾.

The Avondale Calamity.

The Scranton Republican comments upon the testimony taken at the coroner's inquest as follows:

The intense interest felt in the Avondale disaster will not be lessened by reading the reports of the evidence elicited before Coroner Wadham's jury at Plymouth on Saturday. The theory of the fire, which has gradually been received—namely, that the work of the shaft was ignited by the heat of the ventilating furnace—is scouted by every experienced miner who was examined. There was no difference of opinion on the point, while the working of a mine with but one opening and the building of the breaker over the mouth of the shaft were generally condemned.

All the witnesses whose opinions on the point were of any value were unanimous in considering the furnace entirely safe. The opinion that the fire was not caused by the furnace in the mine is supported not only by the experience and judgment of experts, but by positive evidence of a well-nigh conclusive character. This is found in the present condition of the brettice, or wooden partition which divided the shaft to a hoisting-way and an air-way, or an upcast and downcast. This brettice is discolored at the top, and not at the bottom, except a few feet which was ignited by the burning debris and ashes which fell to the bottom of the shaft when the breaker building was consumed.

The brettice was the only material which could have carried the fire from the bottom to the top of the shaft, if the fire had been communicated to the brettice at the bottom, as it would have been had the furnace communicated it. It is impossible to believe that a portion of the brettice, beginning at a point only twenty feet from the bottom, and extending thence upward for one hundred and thirty feet, could have remained unburned as it now remains. What could have extinguished the flames twenty feet from the bottom and rekindled them one hundred and thirty or one hundred and forty feet higher up? The thing is inconceivable. Not one of the witnesses could assign as reason for the origin of the fire any cause connected with the working of the mine. Most of them thought it expedient not to attempt any explanation at all, and only one of the hundreds to give positive expression to the horrible suspicion that evidently lurked in the minds of all. One witness on his oath said he believed the mine was intentionally fired.

Let us not attempt further to excite the horror which the mere suspicion of such an enormity at once arouses, but examine for a moment the facilities for incendiarism afforded by the peculiar situation. George Morgan swore that he believed the fire began at the mouth of the tunnel, or a little below it. The tunnel referred to affords the best possible cover for incendiary operations. Beginning under the lower side of the breaker, it ran under that building and opened into the shaft at a point about forty feet below the surface. The part of the shaft into which it opened was not the hoisting way, which was continually traversed by the carriage, frequently with men aboard, and in which any suspicious appearance would almost certainly have been noticed. The tunnel opened into the air shaft, or upcast, by a wooden door. This point in the air shaft, forty feet beneath the surface, was perfectly screened from observation. It was up the air shaft that the fire came, and it came with the speed and force of an explosion, bursting into the engine house, as the engineer swore, with the puff of an explosion of loose powder.

This explosive character of the flame is partly accounted for by the strength of the draft in the air shaft; but the use of the quantity of highly inflammable materials at the mouth of the tunnel would have tended to produce precisely the same effect. What is more easy than to enter the tunnel, say at daybreak, charge its mouth and the brettice opposite with a quantity of kerosene or other inflammable material, lay a slow fuse connecting with it, light the fuse, escape unnoticed and be miles away before the catastrophe came? The fuse and a magazine would be most effectually concealed while the former was burning. It is a dreadful thing to feel compelled to advocate such a theory; but is any other possible? Can it be conceived that such a conflagration, if occurring from any accidental cause, or at the bottom of the shaft, could have escaped the notice of men passing up and down the shaft only fifteen minutes before the flames burst from its mouth? Was not the mouth of the tunnel the only point opposite the burned part of the brettice at which fire could have been communicated? Was it not impossible for any fire to accidentally come from the tunnel? In brief, is not the theory of incendiarism possible, and all others impossible?

In reaching this conclusion we need not take into account the reports about traces of kerosene at the mouth of the tunnel. It will be time enough to consider these when they have been elicited on oath in open court. The evidences of the most heart-sickening crime on record are far stronger than we could desire them to be already.

The Pernicious Influence of Byron's Poetry.

We like the tone of this extract from a recent letter by James Parton defending Mrs. H. B. Stowe. He says with great force: Nor is it true, as we have frequently been informed of late, that Byron's influence in the world is a thing of the past. Except Shakespeare, no poet who is not living sells so many copies per annum in the United States as Byron. Shakespeare, Byron, and Scott are chief among the "staple" poets of the book trade. But Byron is more than a poet to the young men of this generation—he is an influence. His power to do evil is such that any one who can justly and properly diminish his prestige renders a service to morality.

Let us bring this view of the subject home to ourselves. A veteran journalist of the city of New York is accustomed to say that he can count twenty-three young men connected with the Press or with literature, in the three cities of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, who, during the last fifteen years, have destroyed themselves by the nasty vices, I might say, the Bryronic vices. From the many I myself have known of, I should suppose that he is within the truth in putting the number of these lamentable suicides at twenty-three. These young men, gifted, promising, many of them capable of great and beneficial careers, have all ignobly perished in the prime of their youth in consequence of an error. They thought pretty verses and striking articles and excuse for vicious excess. Of this sect, Byron is the apostle. He furnished these unhappy men with an example and excuse; as they thought they could do with impunity, or with the applause of the world, what Byron did, effecting to despise those who warned them of the consequences of their course, as Byaffected to despise the decent portion of the literary class of his time. I suppose that no man ever lived who had so much power to make vice seem becoming and graceful; because his genius was essentially histrionic, and he had such fearful reasons for assuming a mask. We meet his baleful influence wherever we mingle with educated youth. Professors in colleges, conductors of newspapers, colonels of regiments and many others know how general is the feeling among young men, that to comply with the fundamental conditions of human welfare, is to act the part of a fogy, and that to trample upon these conditions or set them at naught, is to be a dashing, metropolitan sort of person. Byron may be called the founder of the school, both of literature and journalism, the main end and aim of which is to make vice attractive and virtue ridiculous. We cannot be grateful enough to Mrs. Stowe for tearing off the mask from the most histrionic of writers—the writer of all others who had most need to be histrionic, because he had the most to hide. Not that incest, was the worst of his offences. Moore relates worse things of Byron than Mrs. Stowe has revealed. Compared with his beastly life in Venice, where he spent his wife's fortune upon the lower grades of harlots, his incest soars to the rank of a virtuous attachment. The value of Mrs. Stowe's article chiefly consists in the insight it affords into the infinite difference between Byron on exhibition, and Byron as he was. I am glad to have one more reason for detesting him. Certain as I ever was that Byron's poetry was pervaded with the spirit of affectation, I am glad to have such indubitable assurance of the fact, and to know the precise virtue of the truth which it was the business of his life to conceal. It has been said that Mrs. Stowe should have withheld this revelation out of regard to the descendants of the guilty parties. Then we should forbear to discourse upon the faults of George III. because Queen Victoria is his granddaughter, and never say anything about Lord Bacon's corruptions lest we may wound the feelings of some members of his family who may still survive. Benedict Arnold has highly respectable descendants, but historians tell the tale of his treason still. We are not responsible for the sins of our grandfathers, nor can we be really dishonored by them. If this objection were sound, there could be no biography.

OIL REGION ITEMS.

Mrs. Purcell, one of the sufferers by the kerosene explosion at Titusville, last week, is not dead, as reported, but is in a fair way of recovery.

A NEW ten-barrel well was struck on the Hart tract, Cherrytree run, last week. Mr. James Perkins is the owner. Also one in Wild Cat Hollow, near Petroleum Center, by Mr. H. Derouse.

ARNOLD & PHINNEY'S new well on Kane run was to be tested on Wednesday. This well, extending but a few feet in the oil bearing sand rock, has flowed so strongly at times as to compel the drillers to cease work, and the engine house has been burned twice by the oil taking fire. Considerable interest is manifested in this well, as the result will have an important bearing on the value of the territory north of present producing farms.

THE Titusville Register gives the following estimate of the production of West Virginia, furnished by an operator who recently visited the district:

	BB'LS.
Daily yield at Oil Rock and Burning Springs	190
Daily yield at White Oak, Sand Hill and Gas Spring Run	355
Total bbls	645

The yield at Cow Run, Ohio is reported at 250 barrels, and that at Smith's Ferry, a like amount, which would make the daily yield in both States, about 1,145 barrels. There are now twelve wells drilling in West Virginia, several of which are old wells being drilled to deeper sand rocks. A new one hundred barrel well was struck at White Oak, a few days ago.

Last Moments of Secretary Rawlins.

Shortly before his death, the Secretary opened his eyes and noticing Post Master General Creswell at his bed-side, signified a wish to speak to him. The latter drew closer and asked:

"General, have you anything you wish to say to me?"

Making a feeble effort to raise himself, he replied, "Yes, I have something to say to you. I have not long to live. My days are fast passing away, but may God spare me to see the President. Give my love to the President. Tell him how I wished to see him. I have always tried to serve him faithfully. Tell him to go on in the administration as he has begun. Give my love to the Ministers of the Cabinet. Tell each of them how I love them for their integrity, for their virtue, for their earnestness in their duty. Tell them how I honor them all." Here General Rawlins made some effort to change his position.

Mr. Creswell said: "General, do you feel easy?"

General Rawlins—I am comfortable, but something troubles me.

Mr. Creswell—Is it the future comfort and protection of your family?

General Rawlins—Yes, that grives me. I am poor in the world's goods. I have nothing to leave them to guard them against want. Could I survive, I could take care of them, but who will take care of them when I am gone?

Mr. Creswell—Do not grieve yourself about your family. They will be kindly cared for. They will be cared for by the nation.

THE Pioneer Association, numbering one hundred and sixty of the early settlers of California, intend paying a visit to the east shortly, coming over the Pacific railroad and via. Chicago, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania Railroad company will send an agent to Council Bluffs to meet the party.

MR. VARLEY is at Brest making experiments, with a view to improving the condition of the French cable. Insulation is imperfect about 1,000 miles from the French coast, where the cable was cut in a storm and afterwards spliced. Unless insulation improves the cable will probably be under run next year.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, then bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv13:t51-d&F

DOCTOR WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. The Vigilance Committee of the First Ward, Allegheny, will meet at the school house this evening.

A Temperance and Reform meeting was held Tuesday evening last at Hall's School House, Robinson township.

Correction.—In our notice of the new Bellefield Church we stated that the former edifice destroyed by fire had cost $12,00. The church cost $18,912.

Eleventh Ward, Attention.—The Vigilance Committee of this ward are urgently requested to meet at the school house this evening at half past seven o'clock,

Store Robbed.—The clothing store of Mr. Ebbert on Penn street, in the Ninth ward, was entered by burglars early yesterday evening and clothing to the value of $300 carried away.

A "Ticker" Lifted. — Alexander Pavent was relieved of a gold watch and chain, valued at $150, while attending the ball at Turners' Hall, Tuesday evening. No clue to the thief.

Serious Fall.—Mrs. Cavanagh, an old lady, fell from a second story window of Cavanagh's fruit store, Fifth avenue, last evening, and broke her skull. Dr. Mc Cook trepanned the skull after the accident.

Instant Death.—Yesterday afternoon Wm. H. Huish, sixty years of age, residing at Belleview, was thrown from his wagon on the New Brighton Road near Jack's Run, and instantly, killed. The accident was caused by his horse running away.

Sixth Ward, Allegheny, Attention!—The Republicans of this ward are requested to meet this evening at 7½ o'clock at Motherals Hall, corner of Juniata street and Beaver avenue, for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign.

Mary's Festivities.—Annie Charlesworth alleges that Mary Doyle threatened to tear out one of her visual orbs and otherwise acted in a disorderly manner by applying all sorts of abusive epithets to her. Alderman Strain issued a warrant for the arrest of Mary.

The Verdict of Public Opinion Sustains the Weed Machine.—It triumphs where all others fail. Success is ever the best evidence of merit and superior worth. And only 33 cents per day to pay for a Weed at the Agent's, R. H. Long & Co., No. 116 Market street.

Slight Fire.—The alarm of fire in Allegheny yesterday morning about ten o'clock was caused by the burning of some grease in the kitchen attached to Richter's saloon in the Diamond. The damage was immaterial, the flames being extinguished with a few buckets of water.

Caught.—John Barker was yesterday placed in the lock-up on a charge of larceny. It appears that Mr. G. T. Vogle, of Birmingham, was in Miller's saloon counting some money on the counter, when Barker picked up a dollar and a quarter and slid. He was captured by a policeman and taken to the lock-up.

Larceny.—Andrew Shehan made information before the Mayor Tuesday, charging Jim Williams, William Richardson and Christy Bradford with larceny. He alleges that they took $45 from him while he was in Williams' saloon. The parties were arrested and after a hearing, Williams was discharged and the others committed for trial.

Assault and Battery.—Charles Leonard yesterday made information before Justice Ammon of East Birmingham, charging William Klien with assault and battery. The parties were in a beer saloon in Birmingham where a difficulty arose between them, whereupon it is alleged Klien kicked the deponent violently. A warrant was issued.

Slight Fire.—About ten o'clock yesterday a slight fire occurred in a brick house occupied by Mr. Hamilton, in the rear of the Union Planing Mills, Eighteenth street, East Birmingham. The fire originated in the attic from a defective flue. The fire department was called out, but did not go into service as the fire was extinguished before the companies arrived. The damage was very slight.

Hasty Litigation.—Yesterday morning Mary Palmer made information before Alderman Thomas, charging Sarah Jenkins with the larceny of ninety dollars. Sarah's premises were searched but the money not found. Subsequently Mary discovered the money behind a bureau in her own room, where it had been put for safe keeping. Sarah was accordingly discharged, and Mary learned a lesson in hasty litigation.

The Police.—It is but mete and just that we should accord more than a passing word of tribute to Mayor Brush and his police for the very excellent arrangements made and successfully carried into effect for the preservation of order and decorum on Tuesday. The police are daily growing better and more efficient and certainly their conduct and bearing on Tuesday added largely to their individual and collective reputations.

Committed.—James Smith, arrested in Indiana, Pa., for horse stealing, was committed to jail after a hearing before the Mayor yesterday. We stated a few days since that two valuable horses had been stolen from the stable of James Kelly, of Wilkinsburg, which it appears were taken by Smith. An officer got track of him and followed him to Indiana, where he was arrested, having the horses in his possession, and brought back to this city.

Wanted Her Custom.—Mary Murphy, proprietor of a small doggery on Virgin alley, it is stated became very angry at a neighbor, Miss Nancy J. Blair, because that lady chose to patronize some other establishment for invigorators. To satisfy her revenge, it is alleged, while passing Nancy's house yesterday, she smashed one of the windows by throwing a brick through it. Nancy sought Alderman McMasters, and made information against her for malicious mischief. Warrant issued.

Youthful Forger.—A lad named John Crow was brought to the city yesterday by a Buffalo detective and lodged in jail to await trial in the United States Court, on a chargd of altering or counterfeiting postal currency. The boy, who is rather bright and intelligent, operated in Titusville, securing postal orders for two dollars and seven dollars, and then making them read for larger amounts. He was successful in several instances in drawing the money. He confessed his guilt and urged he had to keep his father, an aged and infirm man.

Public Sympathy.—The verdict in the case of officer William Wray of this city, charged with burglary in the Fayette County Court, finding him guilty, excites much comment in this city where the prisoner is so well and favorably known. There is but one opinion in the case and that is that he is innocent. We cannot see why such a verdict should have been rendered on the testimony adduced, and believe that Executive clemency could not be better exercised than in his case.

Lager Confiscated.—Yesterday afternoon two kegs of lager mysteriously disappeared from in front of Schlelein's confectionery, corner of Robinson and Federal street, Allegheny. Later in the day three young men named respectively Patterson, Shields and Caskey, acting in a boisterous manner in the First Ward, Allegheny, attracted the attention of the police, and eventually found themselves in the lock-up. Circumstances of a pretty direct character, it is alleged, connected them with the disappearance of the "fluid," and Mr. Schlelein accordingly charged them with the larceny. They will have a hearing this morning.

An Incident.—The President accompanied by his lady a short distance from the city riding in a carriage was halted by a tall, lank fellow, who wanted to know when he could look out for Grant on his way to little Washington. Mrs. Grant quickly said, "this is the President." The man eyed the little broad shouldered man a moment, and with a twinkle of his eye said, "get along Missus, I ain't this years hatchin'; that man's good enough but I'll wait a little longer to see our President. That little fellow won't pass for him just this time." The President laughed heartily and the carriage drove on, the chap taking his seat by the wayside to await somebody he could believe was the President of the United States.

Disorderly.

Coal Lane, in the Sixth ward, was excited yesterday by a wordy warfare between Mrs. Annie Wilson and Mrs. Eliza Cookson. Eliza eventually conquered in words, but subsequently was brought before Alderman Butler by her defeated rival for disorderly connuct. The language used on the occasion was thought by the Alderman to be strictly disorderly, but that each might have the benefit of law, he dismissed the case and divided the costs between them.

Safe Deposit Company.

The importance of this institution to the public cannot be fully appreciated, except by a personal examination of the great security it affords against fire and burglars. To holders of securities its vaults furnish most ample and perfect protection. As a place of safe deposit for records, and valuables of any kind, the accommodations are full and complete. We recommend business men, and all others holding securities, trustees of estates and parties having a large number of title papers to visit the Safe Deposit Company building and inform themselves of its workings.

An Omission.

In our report of the reception of the President, we unintentionally omitted to state that the following officers of the regular army called upon and paid their respects to the President, at the Monongahela House, in full dress uniform, during Tuesday evening: Gen. K. H. R. Whiteley, commander of the Arsenal, General G. Weitzell, United States Engineers, Brevet Major W. Y. L. Nichodemus, Military Instructor at the Western University, Brevet Major J. A. Kress, and Captain G. D. Ramsey, of the Ordnance Department, and others whose names we could not ascertain.

Difficulty on a Street Car.

Tuesday evening a difficulty occurred on a street car on the Birmingham railway, between John Rodenbaugh, the conductor, and William Lang and Thos. Dunn. Lang and the conductor were arrested by the police and taken to the lock-up, when the latter was released and the former locked up for a hearing, which he got yesterday morning, and was fined ten dollars. Dunn made his escape and repaired to the office of Justice Salisbury, when he made information charging the conductor with assault and battery, and Rodenbaugh made information before Justice Ammon charging Dunn with the same offence. Warrants were issued in both cases.

The Relief Meeting.

A meeting of citizens to take measures for extending some relief to the Avondale sufferers was called for yesterday afternoon at the Mayor's office, but the excitement of the previous day seemed to have overshadowed everything else, and at the time, three o'clock, the attendance was found to be so small that the meeting adjourned until next Monday afternoon. Bishop Kerfoot presided, with Benjamin Morgan as Secretary. The Secretary was instructed to issue circulars to the pastors of the churches in the two cities, requesting them to make mention of the meeting in the pulpits next Sabbath morning. A note from a little girl was read, which enclosed a dollar for the relief fund.

Caged at Last.

On Tuesday of last week we published an account of a daylight robbery perpetratod at the corner of Grant street and Cherry alley, by which Daniel Reynolds was relieved of a silver watch worth sixty dollars. Officers Moore and Rush were entertained with the case, which they have worked up successfully. Yesterday John Grogan and David Gilmore were arrested and the watch was recovered at Deroy's pawn shop, where it had been left by a third party. It is alleged that Gilmore and Grogan are the parties who took the watch, and on information made by Chief Hague they were committed for a hearing on Saturday, the 25th inst., at which time Reynolds, the man who lost the watch, is requested to be present.

Mysterious Occurrence.

Mr. George W. McIntyre, druggist at the corner of Fifth avenue and Pride street, died yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, under circumstances of a rather peculiar character. It appears that he left his boarding house on the avenue, near his drug store, at two o'clock yesterday morning to meet some friends at the Union depot who were expected to arrive at that time. About an hour afterwards he was brought back to the house and the parties accompanying him stated that he had fallen through a trestle work and injured himself. The extent of his injuries were not known, but they were not considered of a serious nature until about half past three o'clock when a physician was sent for and his friends notified, and in half an hour afterward he expired. The Coroner will probably investigate the affair to-day.

The Master Mechanics.

The National Master Mechanics Association are at present holding their annual session at the Monongahela House, in this city. The Association is composed of the master machinists of the several railroad shops in the United States, and its object is the improvement of rolling stock and to ascertain the best material to be used in its construction, and where such material may be obtained to the best advantage. The first session was held yesterday morning, and the Association will close its business this afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by the President, H. M. Britton, after which L. P. Dodge, Secretary, read the minutes of the preceding meeting.

The signing of the Constitution was next in order.

The Treasurer, Mr. S. S. Hays, presented his report, which showed the Association to be in a healthy condition financially.

Reports of committees were then called for.

The committee on the construction of boilers, composed of Messrs. Haysey, of C. & P. R. R, Anderson, of N. W. R. R., and Jauriet, of C., B. & C. R. R., presented a report deciding in favor of the homogeneous steel plate boilers.

The Committee on Wheels, Axles and Ties, composed of Messrs. Filbuck, M. C, R. R., Perry, of A. & E. R. R., presented an elaborate, thorough and exhaustive report which contained valuable information to manufacturers and railroad men.

Messrs. Brown, E. R. R., Chapman, C. & P. R. R., and Smith, C. C. & C. R. R., presented the report of the Committee on Packing for Pistons, Valve Stems and Piston Rods. The report recommends no particular style of piston packing, and believes it advisable to submit all styles presented to another twelve months' trial. For valves, steam and piston rods, the Committee recommend the use of slate, if it can be obtained entirely free from grit.

The Committee on incrustation of boilers failed to report.

The Committee on safety valves, fixtures and levers, recommended the adoption of at least one "lock-up" or non-tampering safety valve upon all boilers, and left all other matters to be decided, three machinists adopting the same. No particular style of "lock-up" valve was recommended, but the Committee believed that levers and springs were objectionable and have therefore recommended the "lock-up" valve.

A full and elaborate report was presented by the Committee on Smoke Stacks and Ash Pans, &c. The general subject of draft was presented by Messrs. Wells, J. M. & Q. R. R., Pendleton, S. & R. R. R., and Van Vetchan, A. & G. W. R. R.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The next business in order was the election of officers.

Mr. H. M. Bratton of the I. C. and L. R. R. was elected President by a unanimous vote.

N. C. Chapman of the C. and P. R. R., Vice President.

S. J. Hays of the I. C. R. R., Treasurer.

L. P. Dodge of Chicago, was re-elected Secretary by a unanimous vote.

The Committee on the subject of antifriction valves, failed to report.

A lengthy report upon boiler explosions was presented by Messrs. Losey, of L. N. & C. R. R., and Cullin, of C. H. & L. C. & I. C. R R. The report was carefully prepared and contained a large amount of valuable information.

No further business of importance was transacted, and the Association adjourned to meet at eight o'clock this morning, in order to expedite the business.

At twelve o'clock the Association expects to complete its business, after which time the several manufactories of the city will be visitsd.

The manufacturers of the city have tendered to the members of the association a grand banquet to be given at the Monongahela House this evening, to which, as will be seen by the following correspondence, President Grant and suite were invited.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15, 1869.

To his Excellency, U. S. Grant, President of the United States: The manufacturers of Pittsburgh cordially tender to yourself and suite an invitation to the banquet to be held at the Monongahela House, on Thursday evening, 16th inst.

Respectfully,
GEO. B. McMURTRY,
Chairman.
S. A. COSGRAVE, Secretary.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15, 1869.

Mr. Geo. B. McMurtry.—Dear Sir: I am directed by the President to acknowledge the receipt of your note of this day, and to say it would afford him great pleasure to accept the very cordial invitation to the banquet given by the manufacturers of Pittsburgh, on Thursday evening next. But a previous engagement to be in Washington, Pa., on that date, will prevent him from being present. Very respectfully,

HORACE PORTER, Secretary.
To. S. A. COSGRAVE, Secretary.

Killed on the Railroad.

David Baughman, a resident of Wilkins township, received fatal injuries on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Brinton station, Tuesday afternoon. He was walking on the outer edge of a track along which a locomotive was approaching from an opposite direction. A bend in the road prevented him from seeing the engine. On the other track a freight train was moving along, and just as it came opposite, a puff of smoke obscured him from view. Just at this juncture the locomotive passed and he was knocked from the track by the bumper. The engineer observed him immediately after and stopped the engine, ascertained that he had been hit in the breast, but was still able to move, and had crawled back to the track, He was taken to the station and Dr. Hamilton summoned from the city, who, upon his arrival pronounced the man's injuries internal and fatal. The accident occurred at four o'clock, and at six o'clock the man died. He resided with his family about three miles from the station, where Alderman Donaldson yesterday held an inquest. The victim was sixty-one years of age, a farmer by occupation, and leaves a widow and several children. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts and exonerated the employe's on the locomotive from all blame.

"Marching Phalanx."

The Eighth Ward Vigilance Committee held there regular meeting last evening at the Franklin street School House. A Committee was appointed to make arrangements to hold a general mass meeting and other business was transacted, after which the meeting adjourned.

"The Marching Phalanx," of the Sixth and Eight Wards then held a meeting. The following resolution was adopted.

Resolved, That the Marching Phalanx of the Seventh and Eight Wards will meet on Thursday evening, at seven o'clock, at the Franklin street School House, fully equipped for parade duty.

Barbarity on the River.

A day or two since we published allegations of Frank Mooney, a deck-hand on the steamer Flirt during a recent trip up the Missouri river, concerning abuse and harsh treatment he had received at the hands of the officers of that boat, against whom suit has been brought at St. Louis. The Democrat of Monday says of the case, in substance:

The statement of Mooney was so full of horrible cruelty and inhuman barbarity that we expressed a doubt of its truth, and thought it might be the invention of a mind embittered by hatred and actuated by a spirit of revenge. The statement of Mooney has been verified by the oaths of several persons who were eye-witnesses to the transaction. These men, employed as deck hands on the Flirt, say that the boat was a day's journey below Fort Bufort when the shooting of Mooney occurred. The captain was sick at the time and knew nothing of the affair. The boat was lying at an island, and the men ware engaged in carrying on board drift wood for fuel. Mooney was in the forecastle letting out the line to fasten the boat to the shore. The line was too short, and he so told the mate, John Garrett. Garrett seized the lead line, used in sounding, and struck Mooney on the back with the lead, weighing about six pounds. He then drew a pistol and shot Mooney in the mouth. The bar-keeper interfered, and Mooney went ashore, When the boat was ready to shove out, Mooney wanted to go on board, but Garrett refused to permit him to do so. Mooney then asked permission to get his clothes, but this was also denied him. He was left alone, wonnded and bruised, on the sandy island, where nothing was growing, and only drift wood and sand for food. After the boat had proceeded a mile and a half on her course, the mate ordered two men to return to the island and fetch Mooney on board. They went along the main shore and came opposite the island, but were unable to cross over on account of the depth of the water. The boat whistled for them, and they returned on board without having seen Mooney. The mate remarked, "Well, I suppose he will die anyhow,"

Mooney states that after remaining on the island for twenty-eight hours, without food, a drift-log floated down near the island, and crawling upon it he was borne down the current for several miles, and was captured by a party of Indians. The savages stripped and tied him up by the hands near a fire and left him there to perish, but in the night a half bred squaw cut him down and gave him a small apron. He was too weak to make use of his liberty, and remained in the Indian camp until the next day, when they drove him away and he crawled to the Missouri river and laid himself down on the bank to die. The steamer Tacony came along and he was taken on board and treated kindly by the officers and men.

The suits are against the owners of the boat, Geo. J. Hazlett, Hiram K. Hazlett and F. W. Boeland. Garrett, the mate, will be arrested and tried in the United States Court for cruelty to a mariner.

The Work House.

Yesterday a party of visitors, numbering members of the Board of Prison Inspectors, Work House Commissioners, and representatives of the press, visited the Work House and spent several hours in an examination of the premises. A thorough investigation of the work convinced all of the thoroughness and satisfactory manner in which it is being done. The progress which has been made is all that could be desired. Already the roof is being put on the western wing, the brick work of which was only commenced not many weeks ago.

It has been found a great advantage to have the prisoners at the Institution, as by this means a great saving in the expense for labor has been secured. Last month nine hundred dollars were expended this way, which, it is thought, will be nearly, if not all, saved the coming month, by the labor of prisoners. They perform the duties of the laboring hands formerly, but not now, employed. At present they are engaged in excavating for the foundation of the gas works, to be erected on the premises. Of the number thus far sent up, few have been at all refractory, and only one has been subjected to the severer discipline. This one became troublesome yesterday morning and had to be hand-cuffed for the day. He will doubtless commence work this morning in a more obedient frame of mind.

The infirmary contains one inmate who has been sick for a few days and is receiving the proper care and medical attention.

At the conclusion of the inspection an informal meeting of the Board and Commissioners was held to consider measures for the securing of more money for the rapid completion of the building. It appeared that $150,000 would be required, of which sum the treasury contained but $70,000, leaving a balance of $80,000 to be secured. The revenue accruing, to be placed in the hands of the Commisioners is not sufficient to meet this demand. The matter was talked over at some length. His Honor Judge Sterrett, Mayors Brush and Drum, and Messrs. H. S. Fleming, James Chadwick, and other members of the two Boards giving their views. It was thought that a temporary loan might be negotiated until the building could be completed and put in working order, when it would not only be self-sustaining, but would return a revenue sufficient to pay off the indebtedness in a few years. Various plans for raising the money were discussed, but as a majority of the Boards was not present definite action had to be postponed.

The company enjoyed the liberal hospitalities of the contractors, Messrs. Megraw and McDonald, and spent the time during their visit in a very pleasant and agreeable manner. They concluded their investigations and returned to the city in the three o'clock train.

At Auction—Building Lots and Acre Lots in Breed's Grove, Allegheny—Saturday, September 18, at 3 o'clock, will be sold on the premises a range of building lots 20 by 100, 24 by 150 and 1 acre each, situated in Breed's Grove, adjoining the residences of Messrs. Jonathan Gallagher and Wm. McCreery. The Pleasant Valley Street Railway runs within a short distance of the grounds. Gallagher street, recently graded, affords an easy drive, and a flight of steps affords good walking in all weathers. The situation is very agreeable, overlooking the entire city, and combining city and country at once. If there is a fair attendance at the sale there will be no reservation in price. Persons who have not yet visited this locality are earnestly requested to do so; they will be astonished to find it so well adapted for building purposes. Terms liberal.

A. LEGGATE, Auc'tr.

There will be a meeting of the County Executive Committee, of the Temperance and Reform movement to-day at three o'clock, No. 126 Smithfield street, up stairs. A full attendance is requested.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

WEDNESDAY, September 15.—The first case called up was that of the Commonwealth vs. James McKenna indicted for larceny, Louis Koskey prosecutor. It was alleged that the accused stole from the defendant $4,25. Jury out.

The next case called was the Commonwealth vs. O'Neil and O'Neil for surety. The defendants were held in $500 each to keep the peace.

The next case taken up was in the Oyer and Terminer. Commonwealth vs. John Anderson, indicted for rape. On trial,

The Soldiers' Monument.

The proposition to erect the Soldiers' Monument in the Allegheny Cemetery has, we believe, been abandoned, and we would now suggest to the Allegheny Park Commission the propriety of making some definite proposition to the Association to secure its erection on Seminary Hill. We have received the following communication from Gen. Pearson, who has from the beginning taken a lively interest in the affairs of the Association and has rendered it valuable aid. The General at one time strongly favored the Cemetery site, but he has allowed his better judgment to prevail in the matter, as will be seen by the following:

MESSRS. EDITORS: Having received a number of communications asking for information relative to the "Soldier's Monument." I desire to state, on behalf of the Building Committee, that as yet no action has been taken by the Committee for the simple reason that no suitable location has yet been offered, save and except that proposed by the Allegheny Park Commission. The Building Committee has no desire to proceed according to the instructions of the Association, to have the monument erected in the Allegheny Cemetery, believing from the opinions expressed through the press of the city, the community would not be satisfied with that location. The Building Committee is anxious to have the matter definitely settled, so that they can receive proposals, and proceed with the work entrusted to them as rapidly as possible. I would suggest that a meeting of the Association be called, and that arrangements be made for submitting the question of location to a vote of the people This vote can easily be taken at the October election. If this course is adopted, the Association will be relieved from the odium which many unthinking people have cast upon it; and at the same time an opportunity will be given for each person to have a vote in the matter. I would suggest, therefore, that the President call a meeting of the Association at as early a date as possible, so that the vexed question may be definitely settled.

A. L. PEARSON,
Chairman Building Committee.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Worrell sisters are still holding high carnival at the Opera House, which is crowded nightly by hundreds of their enthusiastic admirers. Last evening was the occasion of a benefit to Miss Irene, when "Nan, the Good for Nothing," and "LaBelle Helene," were given. Irene, as Nan, is really charming, and has few, if any, equals. "LaBelle Helene" was admirably put upon the stage and well rendered throughout. The latter piece will be repeated this evening, when the entertainment will commence with the laughable farce of the "Fool of the Family."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The old theatre is doing a heavy business this week, and so long as Manager Williams provides such excellent entertainments he will receive a liberal patronage. James Taylor, the laughable and amusing comic vocalist, is unsurpassed in his line of business. In addition to having a highly cultivated voice of rare compass, power, and sweetness, his facial expressions are superior to those of any other actor in the country. Miss Emma Grattan, who does the "Woman of the Period," is also an excellent actress in her line, as in truth and fact are all the members of the company. The matinee was well attended yesterday.

THE CIRCUS.—Friday and Saturday next Col. Ames' New Orleans Circus and Menagerie, the largest combined show in the world, will exhibit afternoon and evening on the Allegheny Diamond. There are over two hundred men, women and children connected with this mammoth establishment, and the street procession, which takes place Friday morning, is one of the most grand, gorgeous and brilliant displays imaginable. It is over a mile in length, and a lion, leopard, tiger and dog, are let loose together. A greater variety of amusement is given by this company than any other traveling circus, and the actors are all stars in their profession. The menagerie is a perfect museum of itself.

MASONIC HALL.—The Davenport Brothers, whose wonderful and mysterious entertainments have astonished and confounded the wise heads of the nations of the earth, are holding forth at Masonic Hall to large and appreciative audiences nightly, since Tuesday evening. Their wonderful doings are beyond description, and must be seen to be fully appreciated.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The Gregories will appear at the Academy of Music on the 20th inst. The Academy is at present undergoing repairs and renovation which will be completed in a few days.

At Druggists—call for Spalding's Jatamansi.

The vast amount of PLANTATION BITTERS now being sold and shipped from New York is almost incredible. Go when and where you will—along the wharves and piers, and at the depots—you will see great piles of these Bitters awaiting shipment and conveyance to every nook and corner of the country, and to the hundreds of foreign ports. They are very popular among all classes of people, and are conceded to be just the thing for this climate. No Bitters have yet been introduced which have beome so deservedly popular and worthy of patronage, to all who require a tonic and stimulant. They are prepared with pure St. Croix Rum, Calisaya Bark, and all the world knows full well what beneficial results accrue from these combinations.
